IN AN interview published in the New York Times after he had talked to President Coolidge at the White House, Mr. Hearst said:

"The President pursues his own way quietly, performing his duties and sincerely striving to satisfy the requirements of the public, and of his own conscience."

That is the opinion of millions of President Coolidge's fellow citizens, and it's the sort of opinion that is very apt to get for the President many votes.

THE Senate Interstate Commerce Committee votes unanimously to give farm products the lowest possible transportation rates on railroads. It's a good idea, for farmers, and good for those that eat farm products.

But what about the middleman?

Cut the freight rates all you please, and that won't help the farmer, if the middleman cuts the reduction in freight from the price he pays the farmer.

And it won't help the consumer if a middleman adds to the cost of food what is saved in the freight rate.

AT THE little ferry that crosses the Hudson River opposite Kingston farmers were unloading magnificent apples in barrels. The prices at which the farmers sold them was about three for a cent. At a little stand inside the ferry house a lady with a pleasant face was selling apples not so good—price 10 cents apiece.

You can't do much for that situation until you do something about controlling middlemen.

IN FRANCE alcoholism and drunkenness have been cut down 50 per cent. in ten years—without prohibition. Light wines and beer are not even considered alcoholic drinks there. But absinthe has been abolished entirely. Very heavy taxes are put on brandy and the other alcoholic poisons and their practice are prohibitive.

WHAT WOULD have been the result here if the government had forbidden whiskey, gin, etc., absolutely, or taxed those poisons $10 a bottle while permitting unrestricted sale of light wines and beer?

Too late to ask that question now!

BERTRAND RUSSELL is on his way to the United States and he will be warmly welcomed—except by a few superpatriots that cannot endure anybody in favor of peace.

Mr. Russell is an able, earnest, sincere AND LEARNED man. His grandfather, Lord John Russell, was one of the greatest Liberal statesmen and Prime Ministers that England ever had. He showed the intelligence and justice characteristic of his race in his long fight for the political emancipation of the Jews—in his lifetime deprived of their political rights in England.

BERTRAND RUSSELL'S father, worthy of his family, was a strong advocate of the right of men to think for themselves. Bertrand Russell, soon to be received here, will be honored as a student, a man of profound learning, great moral courage and made welcome by all of those that rank, mentally, above an undershot prize bulldog.

"GIVE light and the people will find their way," is one of the best things ever said by Dante, or anybody else. He

CARDINAL BACK WITH HIS FLOCK

Happy and Inspired by Trip to Holy Land, Resumes His Work With Vigor

By BERT FORD.

Inspired and invigorated by his pilgrimage to the Holy Land, Cardinal O'Connell today plunged with characteristic vigor into the multiple duties that awaited him on his return to his Brookline home.

He was deluged with felicitations from far and near and fairly tingled with energy and enthusiasm. He was delighted to be in the midst of his flock again, much as he enjoyed his ten-week vacation abroad.

It is no secret, in fact his Eminence publicly hinted when he sailed in January, that he was carrying with him to the spot where Christ died for humanity, many perplexing problems which he profoundly considered en route and in the solution of which he sought Divine guidance on the sacred ground which he had longed from boyhood to tread.

The optimism with which the Cardinal announced to the Boston American correspondent who interviewed him on the Cunard liner Franconia on his return that he had achieved all of his plans with a success that surpassed expectations, indicated that he had reached a gratifying solution of the problems under consideration and that the fruit of these deliberations may soon be made public.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS.

One of the things of major importance which the Cardinal is known to have had under consideration relates to the use which he is to make of the Keith fund, bequeathed by the late Paul Keith.

Disposition of this bequest is bound to prove of the utmost public importance. It was thought by many that the Cardinal might make some announcement pertaining to his on his return, but his Eminence hides his time on all such matters.

Obviously, the next few weeks may mark ecclesiastical developments of moment, but this is all mere conjecture sharpened by the universally welcomed return of the spiritual leader who carries the added dignity

"BABY DOLL" BAKER.

Missing woman and John "Terry" McGovern, ex-policeman, who disappeared when their trial came up in Superior Court, are located in Mexico, near Texas line, running a faro bank.

'BABY DOLL' AND ROMEO ARE LOCATED

Ex-Policeman 'Terry' McGovern and Mrs. Baker Found Running a Faro Bank

Boston's original "Romeo" policeman, John T. McGovern, and "Baby Doll" Baker have been located on the Mexican border, where they are engaged in the more or less hazardous and highly profitable occupation of running a faro bank.

Both are wanted by the Suffolk county authorities following their departure while under bail awaiting trial before the Superior court.

McGovern, while a member of the Boston police force, deserted his wife and children and took up with the Tillan-haired Baker girl. It was in police circles she was known as "Baby Doll."

The pair went to live as man and wife at the Hotel Washington in the south End. They were arrested and McGovern was dismissed by a police trial board.

COUPLE VANISHES.

In the lower court the "Romeo" and his "Baby Doll" were each given six months in the House of Correction. They appealed and obtained the necessary bail.

For many weeks they were seen about Boston together, but when their case was called for trial they had vanished.

THRONGS AT PELLETIER FUNERAL

Judges, Mayors and Other Notables Join Final Tribute to Ex-Prosecutor

Judges, mayors, city councillors, clergymen, congressman, State legislators, Knights of Columbus officers from many States, educators and college classmates joined a throng of 3 000 men and women who paid final tribute today at St. Cecilia's Church, Back Bay, at the funeral of Joseph C. Pelletier, former district attorney of Suffolk County.

The crowd overflowed the church and covered the steps outside, and automobiles filled Belvidere street in front of the church. A squad of police were on hand to handle traffic.

A solemn mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. John J. Fletcher of St. Cecilia's. Within the altar rail sat Catholic clergymen, including the Rt. Rev. Monsignor P. J. Supple, pastor of St. John's, Roxbury; Rev. Joseph F. Coppinger of South Boston, State chaplain of the Knights of Columbus, and Rev. P. J. McGirney of Bridgewater, national chaplain.

PROMINENT MEN ATTEND.

The three brothers of Mr. Pelletier, other members of the family, a few intimate friends and the active and honorary bearers accompanied the body to Forest Hills, where interment took place.

Among the prominent men who attended the mass were ex-Governor Eugene N. Foss, ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, Mayor Quigley of Chelsea, Mayor Noone of Revere, George E. Curran of the Governor's Council, Registrar of Deeds W. . A. Fitzgerald, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael J. Downey, Sheriff John A. Kelliher, Deputy Fire Chief Edward J. Shallow, Deputy Superintendent of Police Thomas C. Goode, City Councillors John A. Donoghue, James T. Purcell, George A. Gilbody, James T. Moriarty, Daniel J. Kane, exalted ruler of the Boston Lodge of Elks; Congressman Peter F. Tague, and many prominent attorneys who served as assistants to the former district attorney.

K. OF C. REPRESENTED.

The honorary bearers were national officers of the Knights of Columbus, Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia, Deputy Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Supreme Secretary William J. McGinley of New York, Supreme Directors John F. O'Neil of New Jersey, John A. O'Dwyer of Ohio, Charles A. Mc-

Beaten by 'Cowardice,' Cries Daugherty

Washington, March 28.—Harry M. Daugherty, in a letter to President Coolidge, accompanying his formal resignation, declared the grounds for the President's action seemed "untenable. He also disagreed forcibly with many of the reasons given by the President for asking his retirement.

The letter said:

"Under separate cover I have just handed you my formal resignation as Attorney-General of the United States, to take effect forthwith. Now I am no longer a member of your Cabinet. I feel constrained, as a private citizen, in all kindness to call certain matters to your attention.

"Your request, Mr. President, for my resignation is based on grounds which seem to me untenable.

"As you will perhaps remember, I did not intend to seek your advice with regard to compliance with the demands of the Senate committee for the indiscriminate delivery of the confidential files of the Department of Justice, or parts thereof.

"As I explained to you, my duty was clear, for I had frequently been called upon to determine this question. My answer was ready, as I informed you, and furnished you a copy thereof.

"CHARGES FALSE"

"My sole purpose in taking the matter up with you was to let you know the position I was compelled to take in the interest of the public business and for the protection of the government, that you might be in position to advise other departments, if similar requests were made, what course they should pursue.

"Your suggestion that I cannot function as Attorney-General and defend myself against these charges at the same time, I believe, is hardly warranted by the facts.

"You know that I have employed counsel, at my own expense, to take the responsibility of representing me at the hearings before the Senate committee in order that I could devote my time to the public business, which I have been doing continuously.

NO MAN SAFE

"Those employed in the department have given no time belonging to the government to this so-called investigation, except to furnish data required by the various Congressional committees. The business of the department is at its peak in efficiency and accomplishment, and I am prepared to demonstrate this fact before any tribunal if opportunity is afforded.

"Your suggestion that an attack upon a Cabinet officer disqualified him for further official service is a dangerous doctrine. Mr. President, all the pretended charges against me are false.

But whether true or false, if a

SKIPPER GUILTY OF ROBBING RUM SHIP

Yarmouth, N. S., March 28.—Andrew Gauvereau, former skipper of the schooner Douglas B. Conrad, was found guilty today of the theft of a $25,000 cargo of alcohol taken in an attack on the Weymouth schooner Lucille B. off Boston last August.

Witnesses testified that Gauvereau boarded the Lucille at the head of others of the crew of the Conrad and took the alcohol at point of guns, transferring the loot to his own vessel and putting out to sea with it.

Ask Radio to Help Find Missing 7-Foot Youth

Washington, March 28.—Use of the radio in the successful search for President Coolidge's Tom cat, which strayed from the White House for a few nights out, is held responsible for the increasing number of requests for broadcasting news of lost and missing articles being received by army and navy signal corps and communication officers.

Senator Ball, of Delaware, today joined the list, submitting a request to Secretary Wilbur asking that the navy radio assist in a search for Robert Henry Langshaw II., of Greenville, Delaware. The description of Langshaw said he was seven feet seven inches tall, 28 years old and weighed 150 pounds.

Secretary Wilbur refused the request, because pressure of official business was very heavy.

LA FOLLETTE HAS COMFORTABLE NIGHT

Washington, March 28.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, who is ill with pneumonia, spent a comfortable night, it was announced today. His condition was described as satisfactory.

ATTACKS 'SCANDAL AND TERRORISM'

Washington, March 28.—Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty stepped out of the cabinet today at the request of President Coolidge and then, once more a private citizen, made a sizzling attack on those who forced him out of office.

"Cowardice" and "surrender of principle," the the retiring Attorney-General declared in an open letter to the President, never should be permitted to dictate policies based on "party expediency."

In asking for the resignation Mr. Coolidge declared his decision was based on a deep conviction that Daugherty could not adequately perform his duties as a disinterested public servant while defending himself before the Senate investigating committee.

These reasons the attorney-general swept aside in his reply as "unwarranted by the facts." The real purpose of the whole assault upon him, he said, was to dethrone law and order, and by a constantly extending attack on the administration generally to set up an inquisition of scandal and terrorism."

The White House made no comment, and as soon as he had dispatched his rejoinder to the President, Mr. Daugherty said goodbye to the cares of his troublous administration of the Department of Justice and boarded a train for Atlantic City.

Since the Senate's investigation of the department began on March 12, Mr. Coolidge has seen plain indications that some department officials were giving a large part of their attention to the defence of Daugherty, to the apparent detriment of their regular pursuits.

Daugherty had insisted that he be permitted to remain in office until he had been given opportunity to answer fully all the charges made before the investigating committee. As the testimony has developed, however, it has become apparent that if he were to vindicate his department it would become necessary for him to disprove also the charges against Jess W. Smith and others closely associated with him.

There is no doubt also that the repeated charges made before the Senate committee leading directly to the door of the Attorney-General's office, although not involving him directly, have had their influence in finally determining his fate.

The resignation was submitted at the request of the President and in acceding Daugherty said he desired it to become effective forthwith.

President Coolidge's letter requesting the resignation based the request on the Attorney-General's refusal to comply with the summons by the tinction of being the ranking Catholic prelate in the country.

LETTER READY SOON.

The pastoral letter which Cardinal O'Connell told the newspapermen in New York would be made public immediately after his return is expected to be freighted with matters of interest to the archdiocese.

The Rt. Rev. Mgr. Richard J. Haberlin, secretary to the Cardinal, who, with the Rt. Rev. Mgr. M. J. Splaine, made the pilgrimage with his Eminence, gave this letter to the printer today with rush orders.

A troop of New York waterfront reporters, accustomed by daily contact with notables and the monotony of their work, were thrilled by Cardinal O'Connell's recital of his foot journey via Dolorosa, the way of the Cross.

The narration was made the more dramatic by its simple description. It painted a word picture in which all humanity is more or less interested.

"The whole party," said Cardinal O'Connell, "proceeded in the automobile that had been sent down from Jerusalem by the Latin Patriarch for my use during my stay in Palestine. The whole party proceeded to Haifa in automobiles and there we slept the night in the convent of the Franciscans.

"In the morning we said mass at the Church of the Annunciation erected over the very spot where the Angel Gabriel announced to the Blessed Virgin the great event of the divine maternity.

"After that we proceeded to the sea of Galilee, where we left the cars and stood upon the cliff overlooking Tiberius, from which point we saw the Lake of Galilee around the shores of which Christ taught His wonderful doctrine.

"We saw the ruins of the little town of Capernaum, where He preached one of His first sermons as a young rabbi in the region where He called the fishermen who became His future apostles and who were to go out and transform the world."

FIRST FOSSIL MAN FOUND IN AMERICA

New York, March 28 (I.N.S.).—The first fossil man found in the United States by paleontologists has been unearthed in pleistocene rocks of California, according to a telegram received today by Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History, from Robert F. Hill, Southern California geologist.

If Hill's reports are substantiated, Osborn said, it will be the first instance of fossil man in his country.

"L" GUARD PROBE REJECTED BY HOUSE

By a vote of 41 to 53, the House of Representatives declined to reconsider its action of refusing to adopt the order of Representative C. E. Kelley of Boston calling for an investigation of the adequacy of platform guards on the Boston Elevated.

In urging reconsideration, Representative Kelly held that there was urgent need of better protection for the public on Elevated platforms, especially during rush hours.

GRILL WALSH'S BROTHER ON OIL CONNECTIONS

Says Company He Represents Has No Interests in Naval Oil Reserve Leases

Washington, March 28.—Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican national committee, will be recalled before the oil committee.

The request for his subpoena was made by Senator Walsh, the committee prosecutor, whose brother, John Walsh, a Washington attorney, was called at today's hearing as the first witness.

Senator Walsh wanted to question Hays regarding a telegram he sent from Sullivan, Indiana, which Chairman Ladd read into the record. The telegram said that "never at any time for any purpose did I receive from Jake Hamon $25,000 or any other sum directly or indirectly, personally or on behalf of the Republican national committee or otherwise."

Al Jennings, the former train robber, testified yesterday Hamon had told him of a payment of $25,000 to Hays.

QUIZ SENATOR'S BROTHER.

John Walsh was subpoenaed at the instance of Senator Spencer of Missouri, and Walsh insisted that he be heard today.

Senator Spencer said he was not ready, but after Senator Walsh said his brother's business had been under investigation and that the fact that he had been subpoenaed had left him under suspicion, Walsh took the stand.

Under questioning Walsh testified he never had been associated with the Mutual Oil Company nor directly with any other oil company but that he is a director and general counsel for the American Republic Corporation, a holding company.

"Does your company have any interest in Wyoming or in California which have any connection with the naval oil reserve leases?" asked Senator Spencer.

"I am glad you asked that question, because the Republican national committee is making an investigation of that," replied the witness. "My company has had no interest in oils in Wyoming, Montana or anywhere else in the Northwestern States."

WRANGLE ON TESTIMONY.

Senator Spencer insisted on having the names of the companies for which the American Republic is the holding company. Walsh said the American Petroleum Company, the Federal Petroleum Company, the Apoose Oil Company, Republic Producing Company and the Fidelity Securities Company were engaged in the oil business in Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma.

As Walsh was excused Senator Walsh moved to strike out all of his testimony as irrelevant, to test the sentiment of the committee, but the later withdrew his motion.

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, insisted that the testimony related in no way to the naval oil leases.

"All this is, is an attempt to increase the suspicion which the senator from Missouri wishes to excite about this witness," interrupted Senator Walsh.

"The senator from Montana is entirely mistaken," returned Senator Spencer. He said that if it should develop that Walsh's testimony was irrelevant he would be the first to move to strike it out and added that he had not asked the witness whether he was the brother of Senator Walsh.

BURGLARS HOLD "CARNIVAL" IN SPRINGFIELD

Stage Eight Robberies in Two Sections, Fire at Police and Steal Auto

Springfield, March 28.—"Burglars' Night" was celebrated here Thursday night.

Early today the record showed eight robberies; a burglar chase; four shots fired by a burglar at two policemen; three shots fired by the policemen at the burglar, and safe blown and much money and merchandise and one automobile stolen.

Five of the eight robberies were in Main street, the three others were in the Hill Section, a short distance away.

From similar features in the "jobs" the police believe that all were committed by one or more in the same gang.

The celebration was all on the part of the burglars. No arrests were made.

SHOTS CHANGE PLAN

Patrolmen Carroll and Kelliher were trying doors in Main street. Through the glass of the store of F. L. Roberts & Co., automobile accessories, at No. 701 Main street, they saw a man crouch suddenly behind a counter.

Carroll broke the glass window intending to enter. Four shots were fired at him by the burglar. He changed his plan and, with Kelliher, went to the rear of the store.

Promptly the burglar squeezed through the hole in the window and fled from Main to Warren street. The policemen pursued in vain, firing three shots.

Other places in Main street entered were the clothing store of Louis Gordon at No. 678, where a small amount of money and more than $100 in merchandise were stolen; the Main Street Market, at No. 670 money taken from cash register; shoe store of Dominick Arno, No. 678, $53 stolen from cash register, and Goldstein's shoe repair shop, No. 702 Main street, where a small amount of money was stolen from the register.

STEAL AUTO AS FINALE.

In Bugbee's Paint Shop, No. 13 Hickory street, in the Hill section, the safe was blown and a desk was ripped open. The burglars got nothing.

A short distance away the grocery store of A. H. Phillips, in Magazine street, was entered. Here a quantity of merchandise and a small amount of money were stolen.

To cap the carnival, the private garage of A. B. Meacham, at No. 36 Wilbraham avenue, was forced open and his touring car stolen.

meant the light of the mind, the light of knowledge that enables men to think, and thus "find their own way."

NOW YOU learn from police statistics that ordinary, every day physical light that comes over electric wires, dispelling darkness and "old night," preserves life and prevents accidents. Lighting the streets and the dark alleys greatly diminishes crime, and cuts down the number of automobile accidents.

"LET THERE be light and there was light."—Those were important words. Blessed above all other things to this nation, is light for the mind, and in supplying that light, the American public school system is the power plant.

THE JUDICIARY Committee favors a constitutional amendment that would end child labor. The House once passed a bill forbidding it, striking at the child labor profiteers through the Interstate Commerce laws. But the Supreme Court said that wasn't constitutional.

WILL Congress pass a constitutional amendment to protect children, and thus save the Supreme Court the trouble of thinking about it?

That depends upon the influence of those that work the children and make the profit.

NINETY-NINE persons out of a hundred in the United States are in favor of abolishing the thieving system under which the richest men invest their money in tax free securities and thus escape the income tax. But you can't get that through the House, for the very good reason that those that don't want it are enormously rich and know how to prevent it.

MR. MELLON, Secretary of the Treasury, one of the richest men in the country, and the President, one of the poorest, well-known men in the country, are in favor of the constitutional amendment, but they can't get it. Neither can you.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE and Hiram Johnson are running neck and neck in South Dakota. That surprises many, including this writer, who believed that Hiram Johnson would certainly carry South Dakota by a good majority.

Senator Johnson charges that a great deal of money has been used to carry South Dakota for Coolidge. Senator Johnson should know, for he is out there, but it wasn't President Coolidge's money—he hasn't got any.

RADIO USED IN SEARCH FOR BRUTAL SLAYER OF MRS. BAUER

TWO SUSPECTS ARE FREED IN MURDER MYSTERY

New York, March 28.—Police today used the radio in their hunt for the supposed maniac who brutally killed Mrs. Maud Bauer on a lonely Staten Island road Tuesday afternoon.

Plans were made to broadcast a description of the slayer across the country. A $2,500 reward for the slayer's capture has been offered and the pick of the New York detective force assigned to the case.

Time and the police admit they have not unearthed a tangible clue.

Failure to unravel the mystery impelled Captain van Wagener of the Staten Island Detective Bureau to call on all residents of the island to co-operate with the police and forward to them even the slightest fragment of information that might count to the identity of the murderer.

ANOTHER CLUE FAILS.

Today the fading hopes of the police were revived temporarily by a seeming clue that came to Captain van Wagener.

A person who refused to disclose his identity called the captain on the telephone and asked him to send detectives to examine a Ford sedan in a garage in Hillside avenue, Leonia, N. J. The windows of the car were broken, the captain was told.

Captain Van Wagener quickly found, however, that the owner had been in an accident and could in no way be connected with the murder. The clew was dropped.

Before the receipt of this information the police had released two insurance agents who had been questioned as to their whereabouts on the day of the murder.

Before they were permitted to go they were taken to the schools in Lonoleumville and Bloomfield and compelled to undergo the scrutiny of three children who said they had seen Mrs. Bauer enter the murder sedan.

One important reason for questioning him, the police said, was that it was said he had annoyed Mrs. Bauer with his attentions on a previous occasion. Whether he was known to her was not revealed.

Detectives engaged in the hunt still cling to the theory that the slayer was an insurance agent or collector.

For that reason the authorities have ordered all such men whose duties took them to the neighborhood of the crime investigated.

CHECK UP ON AUTOS.

Still of the opinion that the murder was committed in a Ford sedan, the police continued their inquiry concerning the owners of all such cars. Five hundred had been eliminated as possible suspects up to today.

The detectives searched for the empty shells from the murderer's pistol, checked up all pistol permits issued to Staten Islanders, sent detectives to New Jersey to discover the names of Staten Islanders who had bought weapons there and tried to learn whether the bullets that killed Mrs. Bauer were from a pistol of American or foreign make.

Roar Is Heard for Many Miles; Windows Broken Throughout the City

Eighty pounds of dynamite, stored in a tool box in the woods adjacent to the course of the United Shoe Machinery Golf Club, off McKay street, Beverly, was exploded mysteriously with a shock that rocked Essex County neighborhoods all the way from Lynn and Salem to Manchester-by-the-Sea.

Crockery was broken in twenty Beverly homes, pictures dropped from the walls, in one house a five-years-old boy was thrown from his chair to the floor.

The source of the shock remained a mystery for upwards of an hour, in the course of which Harvard University was appealed to for news of "the earthquake" and Beverly Police Headquarters received nearly one hundred telephone calls.

Four guesses out of five were in the direction of the Volstead Act, the fifth hanging to the earthquake theory.

While crowds in Cabot street, Beverly, still were discussing the quake, Mr. Richard H. McNeill of Club, went to the golf course at No. 14 Mason street, a member of the United Shoe Machinery firm companied by Miss Jennie McNeill, his sister, and solved Chapter I of the mystery.

Mr. McNeill had recalled that workmen in the employ of a Beverly contractor had been employed for some days on the hilly course on the nine-hole course of the "Shoe" Golf Club to one of eighteen holes, and in the past few days had been busy among stumps and small trees.

Going directly to the spot where these men have been employed, the McNeills looked first for the big tool box, a massive affair some twelve feet long.

The tool box was missing.

Where he last saw the box McNeill gazed into a hole some four feet deep and five feet in circumference.

The explosion will be called to the attention of the State Police, in order that the department having to do with the storage and transportation of explosives may conduct a thorough investigation.

COUNSEL ARGUE IN CORCORAN TRIAL

Counsel for William J. Corcoran and others, charged in Middlesex Superior Court with conspiring to attempt to extort money from Kenneth Merrill, argued motions before Judge Whiting, at both sessions of the court, today.

The testimony has been completed and the jury was excused from the court room while the various motions were being argued. The case will not go to the jury before the first of next week.

COPS SCATTER CROWD FOLLOWING MURDER

New York, March 28.—Police reserves were called out today to disperse several hundred persons who gathered around the house at 215 West 62nd, street where Aloyd Applewhite, negro grocer, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide by jumping six floors to his death.

Police said the couple had quarreled.

What Bay Staters Are Saying

MRS. GAIL LAUGHLIN of Portland, Me., and San Francisco, speaking at a luncheon of the National Woman's party in the Copley Plaza, said: "We have won the weapon with which to get equality, but equality is still to be won. There isn't a State in the Union where the law doesn't discriminate against women."

CHARLES H. ADAMS, former Melrose Mayor, told the Haverhill Rotary Club at Haverhill: "The cost of living is higher in Massachusetts than elsewhere and prices are higher in the United States than in any other country of the world. In Massachusetts we are all too busy studying business."

PAYSON SMITH, Massachusetts Commissioner of Education, defended the flapper and present-day youth in a talk before 100 club leaders in Chauncy Hall. "The fact that a girl bobs her hair," he said, "does not mean that she has changed the girl. I believe the young people of today are more pure, more frank and more honorable than young people of any previous age."

ROBERT H. NEWCOMB, assistant to the vice-president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, in an address given under auspices of the Boston University College of Business Administration, declared: "A railroad is not part of every man's business, but distribution is so necessary to every man's existence that the railroad industry is burdened with a public interest beyond that of the average manufacturing concern."

QUINCY WOMEN FOUND GUILTY AS 'DOCTORS'

Mrs. Ella C. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Black Are Fined for Practicing Without License

Fines of $100 each were imposed today in Quincy court upon Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Black of Norfolk Downs, and Mrs. Ella C. Phillips of No. 163 Independent avenue, Quincy, found guilty of practicing medicine with out license.

Mrs. Black's fine was suspended. Mrs. Phillips appealed her case and was held for the April term of Superior Court at Dedham.

Mrs. Ella C. Phillips — Mrs. J. J. Black

The three alleged practitioners were arrested following the Boston American investigation into activities of persons declared to be plying on the gullible in the guise of healers and physicians.

At a preliminary hearing in the case evidence was given supporting to show that Mr. and Mrs. Black and Mrs. Phillips prescribed medicine and took money from persons who were in good health, although the "patients" were told they were diseased victims.

One witness testified that Mrs. Phillips gazed into a crystal ball before giving her a bottle of herb "medicine." She testified also that she was given medicine by Mrs. Black after Mrs. Black had diagnosed her as a sufferer from a "generally run-down condition."

MAN VANISHES ON HIS WAY TO KLAN MEETING

Providence Postal Worker Heeded Hooded Band's Call Despite His Wife's Fears

Providence, March 28.—Laughing at the apprehension and fears of his wife, Hugh D. F. Livingston of No. 11 Comerford street, slipped quietly from his home Tuesday evening to attend a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan. It was the last seen or heard of Livingston.

Investigation by the police has revealed that the man has disappeared completely.

Livingston was a clerk in the Elmwood branch postoffice. According to Mrs. Livingston, mysterious strangers conferred with him on several occasions, seeking to influence him to join the Klan.

His wife became frightened. She implored her husband to have nothing to do with the hooded strangers. Livingston was inclined to laugh at her fears. He declared there was no danger threatening him and nothing to be afraid of in casting in his lot with the Klansmen.

Tuesday, upon returning from work, Livingston told his wife the strangers had sent word asking him to be at a meeting somewhere between Scituate and Clayville, that night. The wife begged and pleaded with her husband not to go, but he was obdurate.

When he had not returned long after midnight, Mrs. Livingston notified the police. She declared it was the first time her husband had been away from home in the evening since their marriage.

All efforts to learn what happened to Livingston after stepping from the door of his home Tuesday night so far have been futile.

ITALIAN KING NEAR DEATH IN LANDSLIDE

Special Train Taking Him to Stricken Region Is Stopped on the Brink of Disaster

Naples, March 28 (I.N.S.)—A special train upon which King Victor Emmanuel of Italy was traveling to the storm-stricken region of Amalfi narrowly escaped being wrecked today when the engineer suddenly halted it with emergency brakes upon the edge of a landslide.

King Victor Emmanuel

The incident took place near Caserta, where a torrential rain had loosened the mountain side. The King alighted from his car and walked several miles to Rocco, where he obtained a motor car. He started at 3 o'clock today for Teano, where another special train waited to bring him to Naples.

The victims of the storm and landslide in the Amalfi region are now estimated at about 150. Hundreds of wounded are being treated by army surgeons and volunteer doctors.

Fascist organizations are providing clothing and shelter for the 1,500 homeless.

MISS ROSAMOND ADIE

Miss Rosamond ("Ros") Adie of Chestnut Hill, who will play the leading role in the Vincent show, has been elected president of the newly-formed "Le Cercle de Mademoiselle."

By BETTY ALDEN

So indispensable have a group of girls proven themselves to the Cercle Francais of Harvard, that a new organization called "Le Cercle de Mademoiselle" has been formed.

Members of this newly-formed group will continue to collaborate with the Harvard Cercle in presenting plays just as it has in the past. Popular "Ros" Adie has been elected president of the Cercle de Mademoiselle, which augurs well for the latter and probably by this time makes Miss Adie one of the busiest girls in Boston.

Miss Adie, whose off-stage dives in "Oh Boy" recently aroused considerable admiration, will take the part of "Sheila," heroine of "Wake Up," the Vincent Club show. Besides being a talented thespian, Miss Adie is a skilled equestrienne, and was a leading spirit of the novel gymkhana recently staged for charity at the Commonwealth Armory.

Other officers for the new Cercle include first vice-president, Miss Ethel ("Polly") Thayer; second vice-president, Miss Rebecca Williams; secretary, Miss Charlotte Moseley; general manager, Mrs. Robert W. Locke. Mrs. Locke, who made her home in Paris for a number of years, is the mother of Miss Rebecca Williams, prominent among the buds of the past season.

APROPOS of the Cercle Francais—the two organizations mentioned above will present on Wednesday afternoon, April 9th, at the Copley Theatre, a three-act comedy called "Jalouse," by Alexandre Bisson.

Feminine members of the cast include the Misses Edith Parker, Anna Hubbard, Rebecca Williams, Margaret Curtis, Harriet Boyden and Mary Otis,—all of them buds of the past season—as well as Miss Charlotte Moseley.

A DINNER at the Fly Club will precede the performance of "Who's Who," the Hasty Pudding Club play on April 9th, which is to be Graduate's Night.

Following the Cambridge presentations of the Pudding show the play will be given in New York, Hot Springs and Washington. The first public appearance in Boston will be on April 24.

ONE of the interesting announcements of the season was made by Mrs. Walter Dabney, who has made known the engagement of her daughter, Miss Susan R. Dabney to Leverett Bradley.

Miss Dabney, who makes her home at the Hotel Somerset with Mrs. Dabney, is a singer of no small renown. She has sung professionally as well as at charity functions, and has aroused much favorable comment through her talent.

HOME ENJOINED FROM OUSTING BRUCE

Committee of Five Investigating Affairs at Aged Couples' Institution

The trustees of the Home for Aged Couples, Walnut avenue, Roxbury, were enjoined temporarily today in Superior Court from expelling Walter E. Bruce, former Boston police sergeant, and his wife, Mrs. Addie H. Bruce.

Bruce, in a bill of equity, alleges mismanagement of the institution and asks for the removal of certain officials. The temporary injunction was allowed today pending further action on the bill in equity. The case was continued to April 4.

Judge Pierce, during the injunction proceedings, suggested to Clarence W. Rowley, counsel for Bruce, that, in view of the public character of the institution, the Attorney General should be included as a party respondent.

Attorney Rowley replied that the Attorney General had refused to have any connection with the case and had referred him to the State Department of Public Welfare. The head of this department told Rowley, he said, that he was a personal friend of the treasurer of the Home for Aged Couples.

Counsel for the respondents informed the court that a committee of five, appointed after Bruce presented his mismanagement charges to the trustees, is investigating affairs at the home, but is not yet ready to report back to the trustees, who meet next Tuesday.

BAN "BALLOON AERIALS" IN PROVIDENCE

Electrical Expert Declares They Are Menace to Radio Users and Public

Providence, March 28.—Balloon aerials used by Providence radio fans must come down out of the air and stay down.

This is the order given by Providence policemen, following notification by City Solicitor Elmer S. Chase that the balloon aerials are a menace both to he radio fan and the general public.

The balloon aerial is a rubber balloon, inflated with gas and sent into the air, carrying one end of a light wire which it sustains in the air.

The other end of the wire leads into the house to the receiving set.

An electrical expert informed Manager Sesbury of the Safety Council that the danger of the balloon aerial lies in the possibility that it may come in contact with highly-charged electric wires and carry the full strength of the current to the person using the radio receiver.

"It might be all right in the middle of a ten-acre lot, as long as it stayed there," the electrical expert declared. "But in Providence, with all the high tension wires we have strung about, somebody is liable to be electrocuted.

"It not only endangers the user, but if the wire breaks or the balloon collapses and falls, the people on the street are endangered."

U. S. SHIPS TO MEET FLIERS AT KURILES

Tokio, March 28 (A.P.). — Two American destroyers from the Asiatic fleet will carry supplies for the United States around-the-world airmen to Kurile Island landing places, it was decided today. The Japanese volunteered to carry supplies in two destroyers which will greet the Americans at the Kuriles, but it was agreed the space would not be adequate.

Kurile ports heretofore have been closed to foreign warships, but the government has granted special permission to the Americans. Japanese interest in the flight is growing, especially since it is probable that the British aviators and the American fliers will cross Japan simultaneously in opposite directions.

WRIGLEY WITHDRAWS SUPPORT OF JOHNSON

Los Angeles, March 28.—William Wrigley, Jr., one of the principal backers and financial contributors to the presidential campaign of Senator Hiram Johnson, has withdrawn his financial support from the Johnson candidacy and is no longer associated with the California Senator's campaign.

Mr. Wrigley, talking over the wires from his home on Catalina Island, not only confirmed reports that have persisted for two months to the effect that he has left the Johnson camp, but stated his conviction that President Coolidge "has the nomination cinched."

FIFTH OF GERMANY'S INCREASE EMIGRATES

Berlin, Mar. 29—Emigration from Germany in 1923 reached a total of 120,000 persons, as compared with 27,000 the previous year and 3,000 in 1919. Last year's total equals one-fifth of Germany's annual natural increase in population. It was made up chiefly from the ranks of the skilled mechanics and farmhands.

TELLS JURY HOW AMERICAN FELT OFFICERS QUIT

Willett Suit Witness Recalls Talk With Fessenden Regarding Young's Dismissal

The dismissal of Frederick E. Young as general manager of the American Felt Company, a former Willett company, was taken up today in Dedham court in the $15,000,000 suit of George F. Willett against Robert F. Herrick and others.

Gerald A. Bramwell, treasurer of the American Felt, was questioned by Attorney Sherman L. Whipple, counsel for Willett, concerning the termination of Young's contract.

The company's records show that the board of directors on January 30, 1921, gave authority to Bramwell to end Young's connection with the company.

Bramwell said he could not recall speaking to S. H. Fessenden, one of the defendants in the case, about Young's contract, but he recalled that Fessenden said something about speaking to Young concerning the matter. Bramwell testified that the Young contract terminated when he and Young met at a Mrs. Joel's bank and exchange papers.

BOYS IN STOLEN AUTO CHASED TWO MILES

Five Cambridge Youths End Ride in Crash Against a Pole; Appear in Court

A two-mile chase in Arlington that ended with a stolen automobile crashing into a pole, brought five Cambridge youths into East Cambridge Court today on auto theft charges.

Thomas Harrington of No. 16 Wilbur street, Cambridge, one of the five, was given a suspended sentence to the Lyman School on charges of larceny of an automobile, unlawful appropriation of an automobile and operating without a license.

The other four youths were charged with unlawful appropriation and each was placed on probation until June. The are: William Fraser of No. 38 Washburn avenue, Edward Farrell, No. 48 Montgomery street; John Kean, No. 23 Cedar street, and Charles Crandall, No. 17 Alberta terrace, all in Cambridge.

The stolen car is owned by Louis Green of No. 3 Wendell street, Cambridge. Patrolmen Meagher and Roche of the Arlington police saw it speeding along Massachusetts avenue, East Arlington, at midnight. Commandeering another machine, the policemen pursued the car and its five passengers. For two miles, to Massachusetts and Wyman street, the chase led. Then the fleeing youths attempted to turn the car into Wyman street.

It skidded and they came to grief up against the pole.

ATTEMPT TO SET E. BOSTON HOUSE FAILS

Liquid Poured on Door and Ignited While the Owner's Family Is Absent

East Boston police are investigating a mysterious attempt to burn the three-story dwelling of Antonio Bevere, No. 331 East Eagle street, East Boston.

According to Bevere, someone poured a liquid, believed to have been alcohol, on the door of his apartment. This was then lighted. It burned itself out before serious damage could be done.

The Bevere family consists of Bevere, his wife and two daughters. They all work. Thursday they went to work as usual. When Mrs. Bevere returned home Mrs. Mary Harbour, the tenant on the top floor told her she had smelled smoke during the afternoon and on going to the Bevere apartment found the door to the apartment still smoking.

Propose Turning On Street Lights As No-School Signal

Somerville has a new no-school signal scheme.

The Board of Aldermen passed an order calling on the Aldermanic committee on electric lines and lights to investigate the feasibility of turning on the street lights for five minutes instead of sounding the no-school signal on the fire alarm, as at present.

SAY POLICEMAN LEFT WIFE FOR OTHER WOMAN

Small's Marital Woes Aired at Hearing Before Trial Board: Another Patrolman Also Up

Charged with deserting his wife, and providing an apartment on Massachusetts avenue for another woman, Patrolman James R. Small of Back Bay station is on trial before a police board today.

Patrolman Anthony Kaiser of the Joy street station is also on trial on charges growing out of the arrest of a Chicopee Falls girl.

Small's wife is seeking a divorce.

In court, the officer, who weighs 200 pounds, testified that his wife, weighing less than a hundred pounds, abused him terribly. The police learned Small had left home and gone to live with the other woman. The technical charge against him is conduct unbecoming an officer.

Kaiser was suspended from the force when a Chicopee Falls girl who was arrested and skipped her bail and was subsequently retaken, told her story to the police.

Remember—there is no charge for the Boston American "Inspected-Insured" used car service, because this is distinctly a service by a newspaper to its readers.

LAST RITES FOR PELLETIER

Close personal friends were the active bearers.

Besides the national officers of the Knights of Columbus, there were present State officers from the New England States and New York, about eighty past grand knights, twenty district deputies and many past district deputies.

The ushers were members of Franklin Council, K. of C., Mr. Pelletier's own council led by State Secretary Edmund J. Brennen. About 200 members of Franklin Council also attended.

The house at No. 849 Beacon street, where the former District Attorney made his home with his brothers Louis, Augustin and Victor, was visited on the day before the funeral by between 5,000 and 6,000 persons. The Beacon street block between Arundel and Aberdeen streets never before had witnessed such testimony to the hold of one man on the affections of his followers.

Many of those in the weeping lines were elderly women, upon whom "Joe" Pelletier had bestowed his favors in the many years of his service as prosecutor.

DAUGHERTY FORCED BY COOLIDGE TO QUIT CABINET

ACCUSED OFFICIAL YIELDS TO PRESIDENT'S DEMAND

PRESENT INABILITY

The incident, the President said in his letter, "only illustrates the difficulties which are certain to recur with ever-increasing embarrassment and your inability to perform satisfactorily the duties of Attorney-General under present conditions."

Besides the Daugherty committee disclosures, testimony has been given before the oil committee that the Attorney-General dealt in Sinclair oil stock after he entered the Cabinet; that he and others in the Justice Department were seeking to shield Edward B. McLean from appearance on the witness stand in the oil inquiry, and that McLean himself was a secret agent of the department.

In deciding in favor of another break in his cabinet, President Coolidge followed the almost unanimous advice of Republicans in the Senate, some of whom, including Senator Borah, have been urging for weeks that Daugherty had lost the confidence of the country.

COOLIDGE LETTER

President Coolidge's letter to the Attorney-General, requesting his resignation was written under date of March 27. It follows:

"My Dear Mr. Attorney-General:

"Since my conference with you, I have examined the proposed reply you suggest making to the demand that you furnish the committee investigating the Department of Justice with files from that department, relating to litigation and to the bureau of investigation.

"You represent to me and to the committee in your letter that it would not be compatible with the public interest to comply with the demand, and conclude your letter with a statement that I approve that position.

"Certainly, I approve the well established principle that departments should not give out information or document's where such a course would be detrimental to the public interest, and this principle is always peculiarly applicable to your department, which has such an intimate relation to the administration of justice.

"But you will readily perceive that I am unable to form an independent judgment in this instance without a long and intricate investigation of voluminous papers, which I cannot personally make, and so I should be compelled to follow the usual practice in such cases and rely upon your advice as Attorney General and head of the Department of Justice.

"But you will see at once that the committee is investigating your personal conduct, and hence you have become an interested party, and the committee wants those papers because of a claim that they disclose your personal conduct of the department. Assuming that the request of the committee is appropriately limited to designated files, still the question will always be the same.

PERSONAL CONDUCT

"In view of the fact that the inquiry relates to your personal conduct, you are not in a position to give to me or the committee what would be disinterested advice as to the public interest.

"You have a personal interest in this investigation which is being made of the conduct of yourself and your office, which may be in conflict with your official interest, as the Attorney-General. I am not questioning your fairness or integrity.

"I am merely reciting the fact that you are placed in two positions, one your personal interest, the other your office of Attorney-General, which may be in conflict.

"How can I satisfy a request for action in matters of this nature on the ground that you, as Attorney-General, advise against it, when you as the individual against whom the inquiry is directed necessarily have a personal interest in it.

"I do not see how you can be acting for yourself in your own defense in this matter, and at the same time and on the same question acting as my adviser as Attorney-General.

"These two positions are incompatible and cannot be reconciled. I am sure you will see that it is necessary for me to have the advice of a disinterested Attorney-General, in order that I may discharge the duties of my office in this and other matters.

FAIR HEARING

"I feel certain that you will know how deeply I regret that this situation has arisen. It only illustrates the difficulties which are certain to recur with ever-increasing embarrassment, and your inability to perform satisfactorily the duties of Attorney General under present conditions.

"You will readily understand that it is not now my intention to prejudge the issues which remain to be developed in this investigation. I recognize that you are entitled to a full and fair hearing.

"But as there is no way by which you can divest yourself of the interest you have personally in the investigation, I can see no way but for you to retire as Attorney-General. I am therefore compelled to request your resignation.

"Very truly yours,
"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

The Attorney-General's reply, written today, follows:

"My Dear Mr. President:

"I hereby acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 27, by the hand of your secretary, requesting my resignation as Attorney-General of the United States.

"Solely out of deference to your request and in compliance therewith, I hereby tender my resignation. While you do not state when you desire my resignation to become effective, I most respectfully request that it become effective forthwith.

"Yours very truly,
"H. M. DAUGHERTY,
"Attorney-General."

HARDING LINK

Daugherty, in his letter to the President, said he tendered his resignation "solely out of deference to your request and in compliance therewith."

Retention of Daugherty in the Cabinet was one of the strongest links by which President Coolidge, when he assumed office, tied up the political fortunes of his administration with those of the uncompleted administration of his predecessor.

Long a personal friend of Mr. Harding, the retiring Attorney-General was the pre-convention Harding campaign manager in 1920, and he entered the Cabinet acclaimed as the Warwick of the new regime at Washington.

Throughout President Harding's lifetime their close association remained unbroken. When criticism of the Attorney-General began and when his usefulness had been greatly impaired a year ago by illness, Mr. Harding assured him he would find only support and confidence at the White House.

Victim of Crooks, Says Daugherty to Coolidge

IN one of the most remarkable documents ever emanating from a Cabinet officer, addressed to a Chief Executive, Attorney General Daugherty declared he had been pilloried by the unproved testimony of blackmailers, bootleggers and other shady genitry, whose testimony was inadmissible in any court, and he virtually accused Mr. Coolidge of yielding to "clamor" and "party expediency."

He warned the President that the American people face a crisis in the national affairs as a result of the recent "scandal revelation," and he bluntly put to the President the question of whether "This is to remain a government of law and order, or is it to become a government of terrorism, slander and fear."

VALET TELLS OF DAUGHERTY CARD GAMES

Visitors Brought Liquor and Gambled for Money, Says Oil Probe Witness

Washington, March 28. — The Daugherty investigating committee was thrown out of step momentarily today by the resignation of Attorney-General Daugherty but when the excitement caused by the announcement had subsided it plodded along in its task of gathering evidence against the attorney-general.

Life in the Daugherty apartments, where Jess Smith, the attorney-general's friend who committed suicide lived, was viewed through the medium of Walter Miller, former valet, who told of whiskey being brought and kept there; of the many visitors, including Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair, Will Hays, Howard Mannington, Will A. Orr, and a host of others, and of some "social games" in which some of the visitors engaged.

KEPT BOOZE IN "SAFE."

In previous testimony, Mannington was charged with receiving money in connection with whiskey permits and "fight deals." Orr also was mentioned as connected with the film deals.

He had often heard, Miller said, conferences between Smith and Daugherty on qualifications of prospective federal employes. Many seeking government appointments called at the Daugherty house, he said. Richard Washburn Child was a caller, he added, and he said he knew of Child's appointment to the ambassadorship at Rome "before it came out in the papers."

Miller testified also that Armour & Company had sent "hams and bacon and that sort of thing" to the Daugherty house "as a gift."

Witness said Orr brought liquor to the house in a "dress suit case" several times. There was a "week's supply" in a wall safe usually, he added.

Sinclair had frequently "tipped" him in amounts of "over $10 and less than $100," he said.

"Who came to play cards?" Senator Wheeler asked.

"I remember once occasion at Wardman Park when Colonel Zevely, Sinclair, Secretary Fall, Smith and Mr. Daugherty played," Miller said. At the H street house, he said, "I only remember social games."

He did not know how much money passed.

HAD "SECRET SERVICE."

Former Representative J. Van Vechten Olcott of New York said the committee of conversations he had with a "visitor" at his office in which he was told that he would be expected to pay $10,000 when his name was sent to the Senate for a Federal judgeship. He identified the visitor as "Wayne Wilson," and said he had not been told he represented anybody in the Department of Justice.

Much of the testimony today was from Allen J. Pickering, formerly auditor for the government in the aircraft cases, who testified of conditions in the industry and the government's payments to airplane companies.

Pickering said the Wright-Martin Company maintained "an extensive secret service, headed by J. W. Wheatley, former Treasury secret service man, which was paid for by the government in the settlement." The operatives, he said, were former Treasury operatives.

Wheatley, a $4,200 government man, was paid approximately $22,000 a year by the Aircraft Company, Pickering said.

WNAC TO BROADCAST 'THE GINGHAM GIRL'

The opening performnces of "The Gingham Girl" at the Shubert-Wilbur Theatre next Monday will be broadcast complete from the stage by WNAC, the Shepard Stores Radio Station.

The comedy comes from a year's successful run in New York with the original New York company, including Eddie Buzzell, who created the role of the sophisticated country lad, Jane Richardson in the title role, and Madge Miller as comedienne.

The Boston engagement is limited to three weeks, due to other booking.

DAUGHERTY FLAYS COOLIDGE FOR 'COWARDICE' IN FORCING HIM OUT

CHARGES PRESIDENT HAS 'SURRENDERED PRINCIPLES'

member of the Cabinet is to be inexpiatated or disqualified by the preferment of charges against him, no matter how malicious and groundless, and he is compelled to give up his responsible position and sacrifice his honor for the time being because of such attack, no man in any official position is safe, and the most honorable, upright and efficient public servant could be swept from office and stable government destroyed by clamor.

"I have often advised you that my elimination is part of the program now being carried out. The origin of the persistent and vindictive attempt to discredit me as Attorney-General is well known.

"It principally proceeds from two sources: The powerful individuals and organizations who resent my successful action, in conformity with my sworn duty, to save this country from violence and anarchy during an industrial crisis far more serious than the general public has ever known; second, from those equally powerful individuals and organizations guilty of graft upon the government during the World War while the youth of our land was making the supreme sacrifice for the nation.

ATTACKS CRITICS

"I have to the best of my ability discharged my sworn duty to prosecute all such individuals and organizations, but the task has been beset with peculiar difficulty by reason of the fact that the official record in most of these cases was made up by men supposedly representing the government in these transactions who were either knowingly or stupidly parties to the crime.

"This partnership of the rioter and the war profiteer has ceaselessly sought to break down the faith of the American people in me and in the Department of Justice. In the high court of impeachment their attempt to fasten guilt upon me collapsed in disgrace to its originators, and they did not dare appeal again to the constitutional court.

"In the low court of scandal, gossip, rumor and innuendo to which appeal is now made, it will have no better success with the people of this country who read and think and believe in justice and the square deal, but coupled with threats of similar treatment of other public men, it has impressed politicians who think everything of personal and party expediency, and nothing of the principle involved, with the necessity of offering me as a sacrifice to propitiate vengeful interests which seek my destruction.

LASHES COMMITTEE

"I cannot escape the conviction, Mr. President, that your request for my resignation is also most untimely. It comes at a time when the truth is vanishing falsehood. From the public mind, even though I have not as yet had an opportunity to place upon the witness stand before the Senate committee a single witness in my defense or in explanation or rebuttal of the whispered and gossipy charges against me.

"No better evidence of the failure to substantiate charges of wrongful action on my part could be offered than the character of the proceedings by the Senate Committee engaged in conducting the present inquiry.

"If my accusers had believed me guilty, they would have been scrupulously careful to select as members of the tribunal men of judicial character, with open minds, in order that an unprejudiced verdict might be rendered.

"The choice as majority members of this committee of men, some of whom have openly, bitterly and falsely assailed me under senatorial immunity, and who had assailed my administration of the Department of Justice; the designation of a member of this court as prosecutor who is the responsible author of the resolution against me; the refusal to apply to the proceedings any rule of evidence or to grant to me the customary immediate right of cross-examination and early opportunity for rebuttal, and, above all, the character of the witnesses, including blackmailers, bootleggers, confessed corruptionists, and discharged and discredited government employes not one of whom has given testimony that would be admitted as evidence in the most loosely conducted court of the land—all this proves to fair-minded men that in the absence of credible testimony, the elements in control of this committee seek to convict by immaterial and malicious gossip retailed by irresponsible witnesses.

PARTY EXPEDIENCY

In such a tribunal, by such methods, and out of the mouths of such witnesses, an honest man could be convicted of any crime.

"I am aware, Mr. President, that the suggestion has been made to you that my retirement from the Cabinet would serve the ends of party expediency. Had I believed this I would have retired when this contention was first raised.

"Twice since you became President and when I could have done so without criticism, I have offered to retire from your Cabinet, and you have in each case requested me to remain, because, as you were kind enough to say, of your entire satisfaction with the splendid accomplishments of the Department of Justice under my administration.

"After this recent attack and while under fire, I stood my ground because I believe cowardice and surrender of principle are never expedient and that every sacrifice of justice to clamor is followed by demands for still greater sacrifices.

"From the beginning this attack upon me has, in fact, been an attack upon the administration and the Republican party, which my assailants are seeking to discredit for partisan purposes.

NATIONAL CRISIS

"Since the assault upon me began, the purpose to attack every administration official of prominence, including the President himself, has been publicly revealed.

"The American people confront a crisis in national affairs, equal in gravity to any we have faced in our history.

"Is this to remain a government of law and order, of constitutional procedure, with its guarantees of individual rights and its safeguards for equal justice to the highest and the humblest, or is it to become a government by slander, by terrorism and by fear?

"In my battle for my rights, as an official and a citizen, the rights of every citizen of this Republic are involved, for who of all our millions of people knows but that he may be the next to become the object of unjust accusation maintained by lawless inquisition?

"In conclusion, Mr. President, please accept my thanks for your statement that you do not question my fairness or integrity, and believe me, yours very truly,

"H. M. DAUGHERTY."

AIRCRAFT GROUP ROBS U. S., SAYS CONGRESSMAN

Contracts Controlled by Same Interests That Caused Breakdown in War

Washington, March 28.—"The present aircraft investigation has grown out of information brought to me two years ago when I looked into the war frauds, particularly the air service contracts," said Congressman Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan today.

"Different people came to me, but none of them had a complete case. I asked these men at that time to continue their investigation and see me later when they had the situation well in hand.

"They came to me three months ago, bringing with them from 7,000 to 10,000 documents, and convinced me their contentions were correct. They showed that the same group of interests that controlled the air service during the war, and who were responsible for the breakdown of the air program and the waste of public funds, are now controling the air service as much as they did then.

"My investigation into the departments here convinced me that no concerns other than members of the Aircraft Association could secure a contract of any importance from any air service department of the government. My investigation also disclosed that contracts are given at exorbitant prices and that the government is not getting the results to which it is entitled."

300 MEN, ONE WOMAN, TAKEN IN DANCE RAID

New York, March 28.—Three hundred men and one woman were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct in a raid early today on an uptown dance hall, where, the prisoners said, they had been attending a testimonial dinner to Lewis C. Brodwin." The police disagreed, declaring it was a "stag affair," to which admittance tickets had been sold indiscriminately. The woman prisoner said she was a professional dancer. Most of the prisoners stayed in jail for the night.

ROBBED HIM OF DAY'S RECEIPTS

Man With Her Claims to Be Husband; Both Were Armed

New York, March 28.—New York police captured another alleged bobbed-haired bandit and asked victims of robberies in which a girl with shorn locks has participated to visit an uptown police station to see whether the prisoner was the one who has terrorized Brooklyn and Manhattan shopkeepers.

The girl arrested gave her name as Daisy May Logan and a man with her said he was John Edward Logan, her husband. They were captured on upper Riverside Drive after Louis Ruben, a taxicab driver, had charged them with robbing him of $7.30, his day's receipts.

Ruben said they returned $5 when he told them he had a family to support.

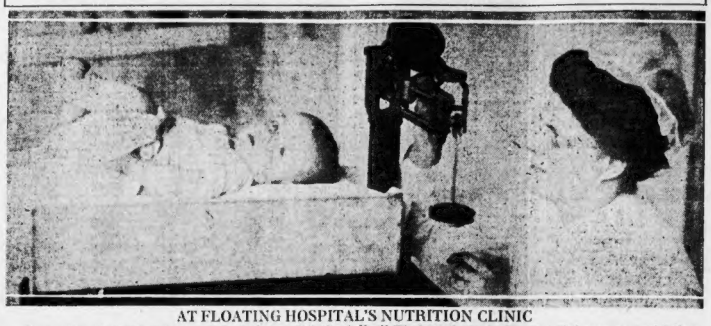
CARE OF HUB'S BABIES NEVER CEASES



AT FLOATING HOSPITAL'S NUTRITION CLINIC

Nurse Lillian Engstrund weighing a baby patient at Nutrition Clinic in "On Shore" department of the Boston Floating Hospital at No. 40 Wigglesworth street. General medical cases are treated there.

Lead from the pistol cartridges had been removed, however, and replaced with paper pellets, because, police said Mrs. Logan explained, she was afraid she might accidentally discharge the weapon and she "didn't want to commit murder."

Mrs. Logan told them, police said, her husband was out of work and they had planned a series of robberies to raise money for a belated honeymoon.

POOR AIDED BY HUB FLOATING HOSPITAL

Tremendous Work Carried on at Headquarters in Wigglesworth St.

This is the twenty-ninth of a series of articles which is a sequel to this newspaper's investigation of medical quackery in Greater Boston.

If you are not acquainted with reputable physicians and wish to make sure of obtaining expert advice and fair dealing, the series will show you how to avoid quacks by patronizing Boston's health centres, the best in the country.

When "Floating Hospital" is mentioned, the idea of Summer care for sick babies is suggested; but this hospital also carries on a tremendous amount of work during the Winter, Fall and Spring months at its "On Shore" department, No. 40 Wigglesworth street, Boston; a fact of which the general public is unaware.

Here clinics for general diseases are held from 1:30 to 3:30 P. M. on Tuesday and Thursday, and special appointments may be made for the treatment of whooping cough with the ultra-violet ray on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

3,000 VISITS ANNUALLY.

It is estimated that the doctors connected with this hospital make an average of 3,000 visits a year to the homes of little ones who have received treatment there.

The age limit for applicants at the Floating Hospital has been set at seven years; but sometimes exceptions are made, and children as old as ten are received. In summer the hospital ship cruises down the harbor.

Absolutely no charge is made for any service at the Boston Floating Hospital.

Applications for the admission of infants or small children may be made by phone or in person.

DEPENDS ON GIFTS.

A splendid social service work is connected with this institution.

This hospital is maintained wholly by voluntary contributions. Clean old linen, such as worn out sheets, table cloths, napkins, pillow cases and towels are suitable if the donor is unable to give money.

Chlorine Gas Used to Cure Horses of Distemper

Washington, March 28.—Having used chlorine gas successfully as a cure for the colds of numerous Senators and Congressmen, the Chemical Warfare Service has used the gas successfully in the cure of distemper among horses, it was learned officially today.

FORD TO BUILD 3 BIG GARAGES IN BOSTON

Reported Scheme to Solve Traffic Jam Plans for 3,000 Autos

To relieve traffic jams in Boston, Henry Ford was reported as planning to build three big garages, with live storage facilities for 3,000 cars each, near terminals of the Boston Elevated system in Boston.

Mr. Ford's plans for the erection of such garages are being studied by Boston business men, it was stated, following a discussion of the project at a meeting in the Exchange Club Wednesday.

The proposed garages, with total capacities of 9,000 cars, would be conducted on a community or club basis, it was reported, with car owners paying annual membership dues covering storage charges, etc. As an added accommodation, cafeterias would be included in each building, it was stated.

STATE LEGION ORDERS DUANE REINSTATED

Kirby Post of Clinton Is Given 30 Days to Act or Be Expelled

James R. Kirby Legion Post of Clinton has 30 days to show why recommendation for the revocation of its charter by National Legion Headquarters should not be made for refusing to reinstate former Department Commander James T. Duane, in accordance with action taken by the State Legion executive committee at the annual monthly meeting.

James T. Duane

Following a lengthy discussion, during which certain members of the committee made efforts further to investigate conditions at Clinton, the State body with one dissenting vote acted on a resolution presented by Junior Department Vice-Commander William McGinnis, which compels the post to reinstate Duane, illegally suspended from membership, or stand prepared to forfeit its charter.

Despite a similar ultimatum issued by the State committee last month which is said to have been ignored, no effort was made to return to its membership rolls the name of Duane, one of the Kirby Post organizers.

The former State Legion head was illegally ousted from the Clinton Legion Post, it was ruled, for remarks detrimental to certain post officers.

Used car buyers today are not buying merely used cars. They are asking for cars that have been inspected by Boston American mechanics.

U. S. ARMY FLIER MAKES NEW RECORD

Dayton, Ohio, March 28.—Lieut. Harold R. Harris of McCook Field, established another unofficial altitude record for airplanes carrying a load of 551 pounds. Instruments on his plane showed that he reached 28,411 feet.

The former record, 27,768 feet, was established by Adjutant Bury in Bourget, France, on June 1, 1922.

AGED MAN, WHO SHOT SELF, DIES

Solomon Cantor, of No. 21 Lambert street, Roxbury, who five weeks ago shot himself in the head with a revolver in an attempt to commit suicide, died at City Hospital.

Cantor was seventy years old. While his wife, Mrs. Nina Cantor, was away, he shot himself through the mouth. He was in ill health.

FATHER HALTS WEDDING OF YOUTH

Declares Son Is Too Young to Marry Sadie Oranburg, Back Bay Nurse

Love may yet find a way for Herbert Raphel, auto salesman, and Sadie Oranburg, Back Bay nurse, but their pathway to wedlock so far has been anything but smooth.

The climax to paternal objection on the part of Herbert's father, Harry Raphel, No. 21 Harley street, Dorchester, came at the marriage license bureau in City Hall when dad stopped the issuance of the marriage license. Herbert had sworn that he was twenty-two years old but the elder Raphel said seventeen.

Miss Oranburg, the girl in the case, is eighteen years old. She is a nurse at the home of Mrs. Samuel Kapler, No. 497 Huntington avenue, Back Bay.

GIRL APPEARED ALONE.

The pretty nurse and the youthful auto salesman appeared at the marriage license bureau on Saturday. The papers were made out in due form and the young couple departed to await the expiration of the five days provided by law. Thursday Sadie appeared alone at the bureau and asked for the license. She explained that Herbert had been detained at his place of business.

At this juncture Attorney Thomas Creed, representing Herbert's father, appeared. Attorney Creed said his client wanted the license refused on the ground that Herbert was not of age. Then came a telephone call to Joseph H. Cahalan, who is in charge of the License Bureau.

LICENSE HELD UP.

The call purported to come from "Dad" Raphel, but it was later learned that it was a friend of Herbert's who was on the wire. The man at the telephone said he was Herbert's father, that it was all right to issue the license.

In a few minutes Herbert himself arrived, and then came Herbert's father. The upshot of the matter was that Mr. Cahalan refused to issue the license pending an investigation of the young auto salesman's age.

Herbert and Sadie went away arm in arm, vowing that love would yet find a way. Herbert's father departed with Attorney Creed, equally determined that Herbert should not be married.

Later Herbert was arrested on a charge of making a false statement over his age and residence. He secured $300 bail.

A good beginning is half the battle. Be guided by the Boston American "Inspected-Insured" blue certificate and you will be off to a good start with your used car.

AUTHOR FLINDT DIES UNDER STOLEN AUTO

Oakland, Cal., March 28.—Death has ended the career of Homer Eon Flindt, San Jose, Cal., short story writer, with a mystery as great as any devised for his tales. His body was found under a wrecked automobile stolen a few hours previously.

Flindt attracted notice a year ago when Edward O'Brien, British critic, declared his story, "The Greater Miracle," one of the best short stories published in 1922. He also had written motion picture scenarios.

L. S. Hendley, from whom the automobile was taken, identified Flindt as having forced him at pistol point to give up the car.

FIRE IN CAMBRIDGE BUSINESS COLLEGE BUILDING

WIFE ANGERED BY HUSBAND'S 'LOVE NEST'

Former Washington Official Set One Up in Brooklyn for Rival, She Says

New York, March 28.—Charges that Norman A. Merrett, secretary-treasurer of the Commonwealth Finance Corporation and formerly assistant postmaster of Washington, is maintaining a "love nest" in Brooklyn were made before Justice Callaghan here.

Merrett, who has sued for divorce in Rhode Island, entered a complete denial of his wife's charges.

Mrs. Merrett not only asks a separation, but also an accounting of money, which she says her husband has dissipated, and for an injunction to prevent him transferring real estate.

Mrs. Merrett charges that on April 1, 1913, her husband informed her he had lost his position, and would be forced to accept a job at a lower salary. She adds:

"I at once adjusted our finances to this situation, and made the best of it. He, however, established another home in Washington."

The girl was named only as "Leslie."

The complaint recites that in October, 1923, he deserted "Leslie" for another whom he introduced to friends as Mrs. Merrett. The wife goes on:

"This caused me great mental anguish, because when I was introduced I would be asked which Mrs. Merrett I was."

The complaint sets forth that Merrett then went to Elmhurst, but set up a "love nest" in Flatbush. He visited his wife soon after this, and professed his love for her again, but she says this was "a deception for the sole purpose of mulcting me of my money."

3 INJURED IN CRASH HELD AS DRUNKS

A former Boston police officer and two other men were injured today when an automobile overturned at Webster and Orleans street, East Boston.

All three were arrested after the crash on the charge of being drunk.

The three men were William J. Hankard, Bennington street, East Boston, a former member of the Boston police traffic squad; William J. Sullivan, Hones street, East Boston, and A. H. Wilbur, Beacon street, Boston.

According to the police Hankard was driving. As he attempted to turn from Orleans street into Webster street the front wheels caught in the car tracks and the machine overturned. When the police picked the trio from beneath the car they were found to be suffering only from scratched faces and knees.

LAWYER DROPS DEAD AT TRACES OF THIEVES

New York, March 28.—On discovering that his apartment had been ransacked by thieves, Joseph Solari, fifty, an attorney, dropped dead from heart disease when he returned home. The attack was brought on by the shock, the attending physician said.

Two trunks were packed with silverware, jewelry and clothing, but the thieves were frightened away.

British Fliers at Rome

Rome, March 28.—Squadron Commander A. Stuart Maclaren of the British Royal Air Force, who is attempting a round-the-world flight in a hydroplane, arrived today from Lyons, France. This was the third leg of the long journey. Maclaren had stopped at Civita Vecchia for the night.

Plans for College in America to Have 60,000 Students

New York, March 28.—Newton D. Baker said that recently he had seen uncompleted plans for a college which in 30 years will have 60,000 students and may be established somewhere in the United States, probably in Ohio. Mr. Baker was talking to the Association of Johns Hopkins Alumni of New York and New Jersey.

He touched on the subject incidentally and declined to reveal where the college is to be erected and who are its sponsors. He was speaking of the danger in the massing of mere numbers and hoped that Johns Hopkins would not have nearly that number of students.

You'll find the blue "Inspected-Insured" certificate pasted on the windshield of that used car you want to buy. It will tell you what the car's condition is.

4 ARRESTED IN CAMBRIDGE FIRE RIOT

Spectators Fight to See Central Sq. Blaze; Three Firemen Overcome

One girl was injured, three firemen were overcome by smoke, and many persons fled to safety when a fire caused damage estimated at $30,000 to the four-story wooden structure in Central square, Cambridge, occupied by the Fisher Business College, business firms and stores.

The classes of the business college had been dismissed before the fire was discovered.

Three girls were forced to flee by the fire escape. Miss Anna Sullivan, a hairdresser, suffered a sprained ankle when one of her feet was caught in a rung.

The firemen who were overcome were: Frank Burrill of Engine 6, Mortimer Hartney of Ladder 3 and William Quaill of Ladder 3.

The fire started in a closet on the top floor of the building in a bale of waste paper. Fire officials believe that a burning cigarette carelessly dropped by a worker caused the fire.

The roof and the top floor of the building were burned out. It is owned by Arthur G. Hennessey.

Arrested during the riot were William E. Baker, twenty-five years old, of No. 40 Columbus avenue, Somerville, and Walter Baker, twenty-five, of No. 32 Simpson street, Somerville, charged with disturbing the peace, and Oliver Marcellus of South Boston and James Murphy, sixty years old, of Prospect street, Cambridge, charged with drunkenness.

The two Bakers were later released.

If the mechanical condition of a used car is very good, Boston American mechanics say so. If the condition is very poor, they say so also. Look for the blue certificate.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Jad Salts to Flush Kidneys if Your Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness and bladder irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Just A Touch Of Ice-Mint. PRESTO!

Corns Wither and Lift Out With Fingers. No Pain.

Corn sufferers gather round; get right up close and listen, here's good news for you.

The real genuine "Corn Killer" is here at last. No humbug. Ice-Mint, the new discovery made from a Japanese product, is said to surely and quickly end all foot misery. Think of it; only a touch or two of that cooling, soothing Ice-Mint and real foot joy is yours. No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying it or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes also callouses and callouses just shrivel right up and lift off so easy. It's wonderful!

Every foot sufferer can appreciate a treatment like this especially women who wear high heel shoes or men who are obliged to stand on their feet all day.

Try it just only in any drug store for a few cents worth of Ice-Mint and learn for yourself what solid foot comfort really is. There is nothing better.

PURSUED BY KING LOUIS XIII

SCENE FROM "UNDER THE RED ROBE"

Costumes Worn in Big Cosmopolitan Film Are Copies of That Period

Aside from the magnificence of the settings in "Under the Red Robe," another of the factors contributory to the great success of this $1,500,000 picture coming to the Park Theatre next Monday, is the gorgeousness of the costumes.

Gowns worn by Alma Rubens, the heroine, and the regal robes of Mary McLaren as Queen Anne, Rose Coghlan as Marie de Medici, Genevieve Hamper as the Duchess de Chevreuse and others entailed an expenditure of almost $100,000.

Costumes worn by Marie de Medici and Anne of Austria were copied from portraits of that period. Special frames had to be built for each gown to obtain necessary fulness of the skirts. Genuine ermine decorates the dresses of the two queens.

More than two thousand elaborate court costumes were necessary for the players who appear in scenes in the reception hall of Cardinal Richelieu (Robert B. Mantell). Most expensive leather was used for the jackets of the costumes worn by John Charles Thomas as Gil de Berault.

The person responsible for nearly all of these gorgeous costumes is Mrs. Greel Urban Thurlow, daughter of Joseph Urban, who designed all the settings for "Under the Red Robe."

Mrs. Thurlow was born in Vienna twenty-four years ago and came to America when she was thirteen years old.

She is the first person in this country to design costumes for Mme. Marie Jeritza, star of the Metropolitan Opera, and is also noted for the costumes she has designed for Marion Davies, the Cosmopolitan star.

BALK ORDER FOR SOMERVILLE CITY HALL

Aldermen Appropriate $20,000; Total Cost May Reach $400,000

Cost of remodelling and repairing the Somerville City Hall, estimated originally at $170,000, has already reached $200,000 and may go to $400,000, it was revealed at a meeting of the Somerville Board of Aldermen.

The City Hall building was torn down verbally during the meeting, and built up once more, when an order, seeking $20,000 additional for the reconstruction job was fought bitterly by the six Democratic members of the board.

Their arguments failed for the fifteen Republican members voted the order through on rollcall, transferring the $20,000 from the excess and deficiency account to the City Hall alterations and additions account.

Alderman Joseph A. Haley, in opposing the order, declared that the continual requests for money had the appearance of a raid on the treasury. It would have been far cheaper to build a new City Hall, he asserted.

Alderman William F. Burns also opposed granting of the order, declaring that he believed someone had blundered in figuring out the cost of alterations.

Opposing votes against the order were registered by Aldermen Haley, Burns, Mitchell, Grant, Hoban and Downey, but the fifteen Republican members passed the measure through.

Alderman Burns, at the meeting, introduced an order requesting the committee on public property to consider advisability of the Ten Hill Farm property on Mystic avenue for playground purposes.

Woman Dies at 96

BIG FIRM GIVES UP SALE OF REVOLVERS

Chicago, March 28.—Butler Brothers, merchandise wholesalers, announce that in the public interest the firm has decided to quit selling revolvers and pistols. The company has handled them more than forty years, and its sales within the last decade alone have amounted to about $1,500,000, it is estimated.

"The action was taken because of the growing sentiment throughout America against carrying concealed weapons," the announcement states.

SAN FRANCISCO A. L. POST WIRES PROTEST

San Francisco, March 28.—Telegraphic protest against the post's suspension was made today to John R. Quinn, national commander of the American Legion, by Daylight Post 299 of the American Legion here. The post was suspended ten days ago after publicity was given to its anti-bonus resolution.

The suspension order was called an "un-American action." The telegram declared its effect was to "give the impression that membership in the American Legion is conditioned upon holding a view in favor of granting a cash bonus to able-bodied ex-service men.

MRS. W. J. GUARD VICTIM OF BURNS

New York, March 28.—Mrs. William J. Guard, wife of the publicity director of the Metropolitan Opera Company, died in Flower Hospital from burns received a week before, when a light garment she was wearing became ignited when she struck a match. The garment had just come from the cleaner's.

CLAIMS BRITAIN OWES 2 BILLION GOLD RUBLES

Soviet Won't Pay Her War Debts Unless Seized Specie Is Returned, Zinovieff Says

Moscow, March 28 (A.P.)—Soviet Russia's claims against Great Britain exceed the latter's against Russia by 2,000,000,000 gold rubles, M Zinovieff, president of the Communist International, announced in a speech at Leningrad on the subject of the coming Russo-British conference.

The British claims, he stated, were divided into three groups: First, State debts and "pretensions" for loans and nationalized property to a total value of 2,460,000,000 gold rubles; second, war debts of 5,375,000,000 gold rubles, and, third, interest on all the debts of 2,314,000,000, making a total of 10,039,000,000 gold rubles.

Russia's claims were for damages caused by the intervention of Admiral Kolchak and for the seizure of gold.

"If there is no hope for us to receive from England these two billions of gold rubles," he went on, "then at any rate we confidently declare that England will not get either the war debts or the interest. The nationalised property of British subjects presents a most difficult question. There are 115 claims, amounting to 600,000,000 rubles.

"We are quite sure British exporters will not make us yield. The revolution was a struggle to conquer the Bourgeoisie, and if the foreign capitalists have been mistaken in their calculations of the safety of property in a revolutionary country, then it is their own fault."

Lincoln, Neb., March 28.—Governor Charles Bryan, brother of William Jennings Bryan, announces he is prepared to go extensively into the gasoline business, and with the cooperation of cities, clubs, and communities in dispensing to the consumer, undersell the market three to four cents a gallon.

He damaged a telegram from a producer offering 6,000,000 gallons of high test gasoline at the rate of 500,000 gallons a month, and indicated he had other supplies available.

POLICE ORDERED FOR I. W. W. MEETING

Trouble Is Feared in Lowell When Factions Gather for Organization

Lowell, March 28.—The entire city is aroused over the meeting to be held by the Industrial Workers of the World in Hamilton Hall, Middlesex street, tonight.

Police will be there in case the different factions get into trouble. The city has been covered with circulars announcing that it is an open meeting and inviting all workers to be present.

William Lee is to be the speaker and he will explain the method and the doctrines of the organization.

It has been known to the police that organizers of the I. W. W. have been in Lowell for the past three weeks and it is expected that a large crowd will be on hand.

Local labor leaders have come out to say on the quiet on the workers being circularized by the I. W. W. The meeting comes as a complete surprise to many, and it is expected it will create some ill-feeling.

New York Agents Break Up Big Combine; Nab Two After Chase

New York, March 28.—The New York end of an alleged narcotic smuggling combine, which Federal agents charged had sent many packages of opium to Hollywood, Calif., and other Pacific Coast cities, was believed today to have been broken up by a raid in a lower East Side apartment last night in which $750,000 in contraband was seized.

Two men, who gave their names as Michael Heller and Max Gold, were arrested by six agents headed by Ralph H. Oyer, chief of the narcotic division in Washington. The agents said a long search for one-ounce tins of opium bearing a picture of a white wheel on a black background hitherto had failed to disclose such cans in any point save Hollywood and a few other Western cities. (Some of them were found in Heller's apartment, they charged.

The arrests were made after a lively chase along Avenue A, in which Heller was overpowered only after he had run to the roof of an apartment house and had thrown away what the federal agents said was a package containing narcotics worth $20,000 at street prices. In his apartment they said they found a touring car load of smuggled goods hidden in a gas stove, ice box, under beds, in boxes and in clothing.

Heller was said to have maintained four automobiles with a chauffeur for each.

'WALKING BANK' AGAIN LANDS IN CUSTODY

Prisoner Is Accused of Failing to Return Business Man's "Loan" of $75

Edward F. Morgan of No. 281 Newbury street, Back Bay, known to police as the "walking savings bank," was back in the toils again today.

Morgan's pet scheme, according to police is to get persons to entrust money to him for "safe" keeping.

His latest victim, it is said, is John F. Crocker, a business man of the Old South building. Crocker alleges that on January 23 Morgan induced him into loaning him $75 which Morgan was to pay back in a few days. The money was never paid, it is charged.

Crocker was not in court and the case was continued for one week.

Morgan was arrested some months ago for fleecing a waitress out of $451 and his landlady out of $300. He escaped jail by promising to make restitution. When arrested this time Morgan told the police he had almost squared up his old obligations.

CARRYING REVOLVER COSTS HIM $160 FINE

A fine of $160 was imposed on Charles Freeman, colored, in Municipal Court, today on the charge of possessing a revolver. Freeman was arrested on Camden street when citizens told the police the man was drunk and flourishing a revolver. The weapon was found in his pocket, not loaded.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. F. X. MAHONEY, Boston Health Commissioner

Dr. Mahoney.

THE fear and hesitation that one may feel or exhibit when asked to do something unusual is across-ing and painful.

By permitting ourselves to get into a rut we feel that we are incapable of doing anything otherwise and we falter. The longer this state of affairs continues just so much more moral courage do we lose, until we become fitted for only one thing or the one course of duties that we daily perform. It becomes a habit which arrests our development.

The breaking of bad habits always calls for the exercise of will power. The practice of observing habits and methods should be started as early in life as possible.

Dr. James J. Walsh, in "Health and Will Power," prefaced his book with the following statement: "A French surgeon to whom the remark was made in the third year of the war that France was losing an immense number of men replied: 'Yes, we are losing enormously, but for every man that we lose we are making two men.'

"What he meant of course was that the war was bringing out the latent powers of men to such an extent that every one of those who were left now counted for two. The expression is much more than a figure of speech.

"Therefore, know yourself by finding out. You may find out by trying. If we attained the same endeavor in all followed the line of least resistance, nothing would be accomplished.

You can acquire good habits and you can acquire good ones. It is often difficult, but through the exercise of your will power you can do it.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Does tuberculosis run in families?
H. A. L.

Tuberculosis does not necessarily run in families, but where there is a case the other members of the family are constantly exposed to it and stand a chance of contracting it if they are in such a physical condition that their resistance is lowered. Children having tubercular parents are weaker at birth and more susceptible to contract the disease. This disease can only be caused by the entrance of that microbe into susceptible bodies.

I would like to lose about twenty pounds in weight. How can I do it without injury to my health. Should I be examined by a doctor before starting to diet?
Mrs. T. O. B.

It is always advisable to consult your family physician before starting to "diet." However, I will tell you a few of the foods which are known to be conducive to weight: Sugar, fats with fat meat, nuts, cream butter, olive oil, pastry and sweets as well as water at meals. Walking, swimming, golf and bicycling are all benefit d forms of exercise for those who are affected by overweight. The most stress should be placed upon dietetic regulation rather than exercise. A moderate increase in the amount of exercise and a persistent adherence to a proper diet will work wonders in weight reduction. It is unwise to attempt a sudden reduction in weight.

What can I do for hiccoughs in my baby and what is the cause of them?
Mrs. J. A. B.

Hiccoughs are generally due to irritation of the stomach caused by overeating or by swallowing too much air with the feeding of the infant. In some cases, they are caused by sudden exposure to cold. Gentle massage of the abdomen often affords relief or the baby may be given a few drops of water.

What are some of the diseases which may be spread by milk?
H. A. M.

Tuberculosis, scarlet fever, diphtheria, typhoid fever, septic sore throat, the summer complaints of children and the diarrheal and dysenteric diseases of adults are often referable to infected milk. Milk borne epidemics are generally due to human sources of infection either on the farm, the dairy in transportation or in the household.

MANY OFFERS HOMES TO 'BABY BUSTER'

ALICE SHEEHY AND "BUSTER"

Little girl wants to be mother to attractive baby boy offered for adoption through columns of the American. Can you blame her?

All the surplus mother-love in New England seems to be concentrated on "Buster," whose mother has offered him for adoption through the want ad. department of the American.

Buster is fourteen months old and quite a remarkable baby to look at, husky, strong, happy and handsome.

But without ever seeing him, dozens of women have telephoned to Mrs Jennie Sheehy, his temporary guardian, saying they have a home and love for him.

"Buster" has been graduated in one day's advertising from the "unknown" class to that of the "much sought after."

MANY PHONE CALLS.

Mrs. Sheehy, who lives at No. 80 Heath street, Roxbury, has four children of her own, yet she is half decided to keep "Buster" herself. She is a friend of his young, unmarried mother. Little Alice Sheehy wants to "mother" him herself, though she is only twelve.

It is amazing how much surplus love for "Buster" there is among mothers who have raised several children of their own. Many of those who have gone to see the baby and begged for the right to mother him have two, three and four children.

Calls by telephone in regard to "Buster," whose right baby first name, by the way, is Martin, have come from Brookline, Dorchester, Roxbury, Lowell, Gloucester, Somerville, South Braintree and many other places.

MAKING HASTE SLOWLY.

One Roxbury mother, the first to call in person, said she had four children, the youngest only four years old. She fell head over heels in love with the baby's big brown eyes, flaxen hair and smiling little personality. She said her husband makes good pay and she promised an excellent home.

Another caller has three children and wants a fourth. A Lowell mother has two grown-up sons and a grown-up daughter, but she told of some mother-love still unused in her heart and pleaded for "Buster."

At first Mrs. Sheehy thought it ought to be a case of "first come, first served," but although she likes the first comers very much, she decided afterwards to advise the baby's mother to choose carefully, there are so many to pick from. "Buster's" whole future career rests on the choice.

MOTHER'S OBLIGATIONS

"Buster" by the way is of French Irish descent, and is good looking. His robust little body speaks for his physical strength. He was on a farm in New Hampshire for several months, until his foster-mother there died.

"Buster's" mother is twenty-two. She loved the father very, very much and trusted implicitly in his promises. Mrs. Sheehy says. He held her trust lightly, yet she firmly refuses to name him.

"The mother is not in destitute circumstances, but she is prevented from raising the child herself because she is the chief support of a widowed mother and a little brother and sister.

BATTLE 10 DAYS FOR LIVES

Norfolk, Va., March 28.—The story of how at the age of seventy he performed the greatest task of all his forty years as a master mariner has made a Yankee skipper the biggest man the port of Norfolk has entertained in a generation.

The skipper is Captain Charles E. Williams of No. 110 Oxford street Cambridge, Mass., his ship, the four-masted schooner Brina F. Pendleton and the good old Cap'n's feat of feats, the steering of his vessel for ten long and terrible days through gale after gale, without a rudder.

The Pendleton, lumber laden, left Jacksonville on February 8, for Portland, Maine. Although some rough weather was experienced, the trip up the coast to Charleston was almost uneventful.

TOSSED LIKE CHIP.

About 200 miles off Hatteras the schooner encountered one gale after another, and was tossed about like a chip on the water.

The rudder was carried away by the storm, and the hulk was broke over the vessel. She began to leak and when the steamer Bermuda came up and offered to take off the crew the Brina F. Pendleton had been reduced to a condition of helplessness.

"There she was, the Bermudian," Captain Charlie says "looking as safe as the Boston Customhouse and there were we on a vessel without a rudder, the seas breaking over us. The water already in our hold.

"It was a terrible temptation, but I am glad now that we stuck to the ship.

BROUGHT TO ANCHOR.

"The Bermudian sailed away and we began the task of sailing without a rudder. It was the biggest job I ever undertook.

"It was done by manipulating the sails. First we would run up one sail and then another. Under these conditions our course naturally was zig-zag.

"The commanders of passing vessels only have said to themselves 'There goes a craft with a fool skipper.'

After ten rudderless days we succeeded in bringing the vessel to a point off Virginia Beach, where we anchored on Wednesday morning and asked for assistance. Our days of hardship were over when the cutter Mendota came to us at midnight and took us in tow for Norfolk Harbor."

RADIO PLAYLET AT TRINITY BANQUET

A novel feature of the annual Father and Son banquet of Trinity Church to be held in the church parish house in Copley square, tonight, will be the reception of the playlet, "The Church and the Newsboy" broadcasted from station WNAC. A complete radio receiving set has been installed in the dining hall. Two of the boys participating in the playlet are Paul Mackay, soprano soloist of Trinity Choir, and Herbert Hoomer, organist. The other member is Joseph Charles Candelmo, newsboy. The program at the radio studio has been arranged through the Roosevelt Newsboys Association.

Victim of Bandits

CHARLES BREEN.

South Boston man, who was robbed of $604 which he had saved to bring his mother and little brother from Ireland. The robbery shattered his dream of many months.

SOUTH BOSTON MAN ROBBED OF SAVINGS

The fond dreams of Charles Breen an Irish immigrant of only a few months, to bring his mother and little brother to America, were rudely shattered by three bandits.

Ever since he landed here from Ireland, Breen, who is twenty seven years old, and lives at No 75 L street, South Boston, has saved every spare dollar in the hope of bringing over his relatives.

When he finally accumulated $604 he went to Cunard Steamship Co. for his relatives to start for the land to draw the money out.

On his way, at South Station, he met a young man about thirty years old with a long, pale face, who seemed inclined to make his acquaintance.

To him, Breen confided his plans. Then he made his new acquaintance talk.

Scarcely an hour later Breen met the pale faced young man. The young fellow was in an automobile with two companions at Main Point, a thoroughfare south Boston. He and Breen familiarly and asked him if he knew anything about a car. When Breen replied in the affirmative, the autoist asked him to examine the engine.

Breen bent forward over the motor, when he felt the barrel of a revolver pressed against his ribs.

Keep your face down and hand over your money, or you'll get it," snapped the bandit, handing $604 [illegible] Breen's pockets were left a cloud of dust. Breen was able to obtain the first two numbers of the machine plate. They were 34——, Mass. He reported the theft to the police.

Francisco E. DeWolf Dead

Bristol, R. I., March 28.—Francisco E. DeWolf, father of Baroness Le Strange de Knebworth of Budapest and brother-in-law of United States Senator Le Baron B. Colt of Rhode Island, died at his home here early today at the age of eighty-one. He was born in San Juan, Cuba. Baroness de Knebworth and a son Brinford Colt de Wolf, survive him.

TELL OF JOY AT CLUB IN ROXBURY

Petting parties in the hallway; the arms of a woman thrown around an astonished and unwilling policeman's neck, and women the worse for liquor, figured in testimony against the Phalanx Orchestra Club in Roxbury court today.

The Phalanx Orchestra Club is located at No 2150 Washington street, Roxbury, and, is headquarters of a colored jazz band.

J. C. Johnston and Lincoln G. Pope went on trial in the court today on charges of keeping and exposing liquor in the clubrooms. Both are Roxbury and Dorchester [illegible] were arrested on a search warrant.

Patrolman Schumann testified that he had seen and heard much [illegible] in the club hallway. He said he observed men and women together, and women with their escorts [illegible] drinks.

Patrolman Tobin [illegible] testified to a similar state of affairs. He said, however, Tobin testified that one night of February 4 while he was standing outside the club a woman stripped down the stairs threw her arms about his neck and begged him to take a ride with her in her auto[illegible].

Another policeman testified that he had arrested one Elizabeth Ryan, and she left the club screaming that she [illegible] intoxicants.

The spectators in court were stirred to the hilarious testimony and several occasions Judge Weston [illegible] was compelled to admonish the [illegible] to keep order. The case is still [illegible].

WOMAN STARVING IN SHACK HAD $6,000

Plymouth, Mass., March 28.—A woman, known to her neighbors both as Kate L. Delay in Raising P. O. Pay Is Intolerable

A private employer who would pay an employe only $1800 a year after nearly forty years of service that demands the high degree of honesty and intelligence called for in letter carriers would be condemned by his own fellow-employers as parsimonious.

John Condon

Yet that is all that Uncle Sam pays Letter Carrier John Condon, of the Central Post Office, who has been in the service for almost forty years with his present route in Federal street. He supports his wife and a family of seven children on $1800 a year.

There is no excuse for Congress not passing the bill giving letter carriers an increase of $600.

NATIONAL LEAGUE HEAD ENTHUSIASTIC OVER 1924 OUTLOOK

POINTS OUT BASEBALL BENEFITS

Jacksonville, Fla. March 28.—Jean Heydler, president of the National League has been watching the Floridians get going baseball custom and now learning much himself as he frankly confesses on his first tour of the circuits since the magnate has become enthusiastic over what he has seen.

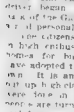
John A. Heydler

It was to boost real estate and attract tourists and businessmen that the baseball camps were built. Now the experts are winning new followers in remarkable fashion.

I was riding along in a taxi from St. Louis, Mr. Heydler said in relating some experiences, when the driver began boasting about the team of the Giants. He showed a real personal pride.

The citizens of towns turned out in high enthusiasm to build Spring homes for big league teams and have adopted the clubs as their very own. It is amazing how fast they put up high class parks. A number were done in six weeks. Now the people are turning out and becoming real fans.

Of course they are the primary object in that stage but they are learning fast. The rooting is a tell tale of Floridians lack of a working knowledge of the game in many cases. They make the strangest kind of remarks."



John McGraw.

Heydler declares the type of player now coming to the big leagues is a tribute to the sport. He said it was a revelation to him to observe such generally splendid physical specimens and their gentlemanly demeanor. He contrasted the rough type of the old days and asserted himself in on a new plane.

"A noted foreigner recently said Americans are becoming a sturdier and handsomer race than the Europeans." Heydler remarked, "because of our great love of athletics. I wish this man could have been with me in the ball camps."

Sunny weather has replaced for good, seemingly, the worst rainy and cold season the Florida West Coast has had in nine years.

Manager Speaker of the Cleveland club has announced Catchers Glenn Myatt, Luke Sewell and Al Walters are all "first strikers." The departure of Steven O'Neil for First Baseman George Burns of the Red Sox makes many experts wonder if the club will suffer

In addition to the novice classes two open classes at 118 and 147 pounds are on the card.

CARDS WANT TO GET CATCHER GIBSON

By NICK FLATLEY.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 28.—Branch Rickey, still looking for a big league catcher, brought his Cardinals to town to play the Braves, and there was a chance that he might talk some more trade with Owners Mat[illegible] and Judge Fiche[illegible]

Frank Gibson

Branch knows now that he hasn't a chance to get Catcher Mickey O'Neil. He wanted that young man in a straight swap for Manager Bob Boldon's third baseman.

The Braves officials naturally laughed at that one Mickey could be traded for almost any young star in the large leagues about this time, not to mention a veteran who is rapidly sliding down the hill, incompanie by a large margin.

So Branch may do business with the club for Frank Gibson, who is a holdout on the one dollar a year Worcester but still Braves' property. We talked with Mister R. key also. Gibson. He admits Frank is a good hustling catcher, and he wishes now that he hadn't waived on the young man when the Braves shunted him out of the league. That was before the Cardinal catching staff was wrecked by injury.

The St. Louis manager has heard a lot of good reports on "Gibby" from the players around the Florida circuit. The boys are all strong for Frank, who is a fighting hustling sort with plenty of ability to help along many a ball club.

Rickey, who is something of a baseball prophet and student of baseball character, can't be expected to part with players for the reason he will. He'll Ain't with go to the Giants and won't trade him to them, for that reason he is inclined to barter for "Ott" Smith, who had his troubles with John McGraw.

As far as we have been able to observe, the dope is all wrong on "Ott." He has worked hard, and has come along the palms, from a[illegible] of a crab, or a leading man on a[illegible] and he can surely think of no spot more, we'd much rather see the young man with the Braves than with the Cards.

OVERTIME GAME GIVES CELTS VICTORY

The Original Celtics, world's champion basketball team, defeated the Hub Nationals, a group of Boston stars, 35 to 34, in overtime game before a crowd at Mechanics Building

Trailing 14 to 7 at the end of the final half, they came back with a sensational brand of basketball in the final period

The much-talked of Johnnie Beckman showed the way to his teammates by shooting four baskets, all difficult

When the whistle blew at the end of the regulation periods, the score was 32 a[illegible]. The teams agreed to play an extra five minute period. In that overtime session, Holman shot a foul and Beckman made another basket which gave the champions the contest.

There was much stalling by the Celtics and the referee awarded the Hub outfit a free try at the basket as the Celtics practice to hold the ball too long constituted a technical foul.

In the preliminary game the Celtics team of Cambridge defeated the Young Men's Hebrew Association of Brooklyn 26 to 16

SIEGAL AFTER A BOUT WITH EDDIE SHEVLIN

If Nate Siegal, former New England welterweight champion, wins over Bob Lowry, Scotch welterweight, at the Armory A. A.'s show at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday night probably he will secure a tussle with Eddie Shevlin. A Siegal - Shevlin bout would be what the promoters term a "natural."

Nate Siegal

Siegal has won three bouts by knockouts since he started his comeback. Joe Pinez of Felix King and Johnny Avila were his victims.

As Lowry recently won over Al Sears and has youth on his side, he may upset Nate's plans.

AMATEURS BATTLE AT EAST BOSTON

The 126 pound class will have the greatest collection of stars ever assembled in that division. Eddie Devine, South End's pride, Louis Baldi, East Boston favorite, Ted Blodgett, Lynn, Leo Suppia, Franklin and Mike Margot, South End, are among the entrants in this class. Devine, a real artist, is the season's sensation in the amateur ranks. Eddie has scored twenty four knockouts so far this season.

ROCKNE WILL GET FABULOUS SALARY

Notre Dame, Ind., March 28.—Knute K. Rockne, it is said, is the highest paid football coach of the country as the result of his signing a ten-year contract as director of athletics at the University of Notre Dame.

No official statement can be obtained as to the salary the wizard will receive, but it is rumored the amount will be between $125,000 and $150,000 annually.

RIVAL MAY PASS UP BIG FEATURE

Chicago, March 28.—With time approaching for Olympic tryouts for track and field events in the United States and with long faces being drawn over the probability that the 1,500 and 3000 meters events will be taken from the athletes of this country,

Joie Ray

Joie Ray, defiance star of the Illinois Athletic Club shows an optimistic forecast. The red-headed gamester from this city drops the information that it is not at all improbable that Paavo Nurmi, the Finn, whose activity is most feared in this country, will pass up the 1,500 and 3,000 meters events and will centre his attention on an attempt to run twelve miles under an hour.

The Finn distance man, according to Ray's information, passed along through a friend in Paris, is training hard for the attempt to do what no runner ever has done.

He is said to be a rather chesty individual and would rather appear in the exhibition against time than to risk defeat at the hands of Americans in the regular Olympic events.

Ray has also been selected as a member of the American team and cannot be until after he has had his part in the preliminaries. He is confident, however, that he can win a place and is just as certain that Nurmi cannot beat him even if he starts.

"A man in athletic competition gets so much actual running in the East," said Ray.

"There is nearly always some kind of an event in progress where a runner can enter and keep himself in good condition. It is different in the West.

"There are not so many track meets in this section and when I am at home I have to work hard to keep myself in shape. It is easier to train in actual racing because there is a certain excitement and exhilaration which makes the work easier.

"In the East about all one has to do is to keep regular hours and watch the diet. It also is necessary to watch closely the condition of feet and legs, for the business of pounding around on armory floors is liable to bring a runner down lame at any time."

Five $50,000 Rookies in American League

The American League of 1924 will exhibit five "$50,000 beauties."

The men purchased for that sum from the minors, and who are to get the chance to show their stuff this year, are:

Red Sox—Dudley Lee, shortstop, purchased from Tulsa of the Western League last year, batting .340 in 161 games and fielding .959.

Yankees—Earl Combs, outfielder, batted for .380 in 166 games with the Louisville American Association team and had a fielding average of .955.

RED SOX INFIELD FAST ON DOUBLE PLAYS

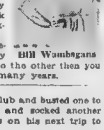
By FRED C. LANE

San Antonio, Tex., March 28.—"The Red Sox infield of Harris, Wamby, Lee and McMillan have found themselves," says Huck Duffy. "The barnstorming trip will smooth off the rough spots about second base and more double plays will be executed about the sack than Boston has seen since Maranville and Evers left the Hub.

Lee can play short as it should be played and he plays second base on throws from home plate as well as anybody in the business."

"I look for Bill Wambsganss to shine more brightly this season than ever before. He has a man to work with him who will cause him to step lively to execute some double killings."

"It will take a few more weeks before they become accustomed to each other but just so soon as they get to that point where the speed of each is known to the other then you will see what Boston has been wanting for a good many years.



Bill Wambsgans

Manager Fohl put the players through a seven-inning drill. The Regulars led the Yannigans, 9 to 8. Because of the extreme heat the pastime was cut.

Joe Harris

Curtis Fullerton, East Boston lad, took the mound for the Regulars and though touched up at times did well.

He was inclined to be wild at times and hit two batters.

Howe and Fuller, a southpaw, pitched for the younesters. Of the two Howe made the better impression.

Al Stokes, the recruit catcher whom Manager Fohl will carry along on the barnstorming trip, broke into the home run club and busted one to deep left field and socked another to three bases on his next trip to the plate.

Joe Harris had the day off. His bad shoulder continues to give him trouble. The ailment has puzzled the medical men here.

McMillan turned his ankle while at bat and was sent to the club house. He was able to limp in without aid.

GREB TO FIGHT NORFOLK ON APRIL 4

Champion Harry Greb and Kid Norfolk, will meet in a 10-round bout to a decision in Mechanic's Building next Friday night, under the auspices of the Faneuil A. A.

Harry Greb

It is the most expensive card that the Faneuil Club has arranged since they put Champion Pete Hermsen and Young Montreal on at Braves Field two years ago.

Only once before in his long career did Greb consent to a match with Norfolk and that was for a no-decision bout in Pittsburgh two years ago. It was a terrific battle and Greb was badly used by Norfolk.

SHUGRUE SCORES TECHNICAL KAYO

New Haven, Conn., March 28.—Willie Shugrue of Waterbury, scored a technical knockout over Kid Lewis of Hartford in the final round of a 12-round bout.

REDS WILL EXCHANGE OUTFIELDER DUNCAN

Cincinnati, March 28—President August Herrmann and other officials of the Cincinnati Reds are out of the city and no confirmation of a Memphis report of the exchange of outfielder Duncan and two other players for third baseman Dressen could be obtained at the offices of the Cincinnati Club.

The Red management has negotiated with the St. Paul Club for Dressen, but the name of Duncan never has appeared in connection with this deal and baseball fans are greatly

McTIGHE 8 TO 5 CHOICE FOR STRIBLING BOUT

New York, March 28.—Mike McTigue today came into added favor in the betting on his scheduled twelve-round bout with Young Stribling in Newark, on Monday night, the odds going to 8 to 5 on the world's light heavyweight champion.

Lauzon Beats Hall

"Pet" Lauzon of Lynn won his second consecutive game in the New England pocket billiard champion ship at the State Theatre Club when he defeated James Hall of Boston, 125 to 82.

The winner's high run was 28. Hall's 13. Tonight Percy Saunders of Boston will play Charles Kepler of Bangor.

SHEPPARD AND MARTIN CLASH TONIGHT

Portland, Me., March 28.—Andy Martin, Boston Bantam flash, and Johnny Sheppard of Woburn are ready for their twelve - round bout here tonight. It is one of the most important bantam weight bouts of the season and is sure to attract a capacity crowd.

Andy Martin

Martin is considered as the coming bantamweight champion of the world by Maine fans. He has done most of his battling in this State and has never been defeated here. His remarkable ability as a boxer, plus the ability to count with a stinging wallop have enabled him to crush the opposition.

Sheppard will give Martin the hardest test of his career. Johnny has won a couple of times from Abe Friedman, New England bantamweight champion, and believes he carries enough guns to knock Martin out of the picture.

John D. Rockefeller.

He took a par 4 on the 340-yard first hole; and a par 5 on the third hole, which is 465 yards. The only hole on which he played two strokes over par was the eight, a 320-yard hole. He plays the other holes in one over par.

SECOND HOCKEY GAME BILLED TONIGHT

Another thrilling hockey game is billed at the Arena tonight when the B. A. A. team goes after Pittsburgh in an effort to even the championship series.

Frenchy La Croix

The Yellow Jackets are active every minute. The two sets of forwards used by them tear loose every minute and are on the ice.

Boston fans got some measure of palatable even in B. A. A. defeat in the fact that Herb Drury scored two of the goals. Herb always has been a big favorite in this city. His hockey has been dazzling [illegible] from Pittsburgh indicate that Herb hasn't been getting the proper show with the Yellow Jackets this season. Drury hails from Port Colborne, Ont., and most of the other Yellow Jackets come from Toronto.

Rivers Baseball Dates

The Rivers School nine will open the season on April 19. The list of games arranged is as follows:

April 19—Country Day School at Newton.
April 23—Roxbury Latin School.
April 25—Lawrence Academy.
May 2—Brown & Nichols.
May 3—Lawrence Academy at Groton.

FIFTY-ONE ROUNDS

Jimmy Dundee Goes the Long Route.

Experts agree that the fifty-one round finish battle held last year in Mexico City between Mercy Montes, of San Antonio, Texas, and Jimmy Dundee, of New York, breaks the world's record for long fights under Queensberry Rules.

The fight, which gave the lightweight championship of the Mexican Republic to Montes, was the first fight held at night in Mexico City's colossal bull ring.

From the eighteenth round to the finish of the battle both men fought fast. In the forty-ninth round Montes began heavy punches to the kidneys which brought Dundee to his knees. Although the New Yorker collapsed and took the count he was not completely knocked out but was so thoroughly exhausted from the long grilling that it was impossible for him to move.

NOVEL LINKS COMPETITION

Casting Rod Replaces Driver.

A new game was introduced to the sporting world at Wellington, England, a few months ago.

Two men played the local course, one using golf clubs and a ball and the other using a casting rod with a 2½ ounce weight affixed to the line.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE SERIES

Including "Small Change" Transactions.

There's always a lot of talk after a world's series on the subject of how much the managers get and how much the players split up between them. According to "Sporting Life" the incidental money the fans throw around on extras makes interesting expense account reading too.

Here's a sample from last year's series: 185,947 people saw the five games. During the week these people drank 12,500 gallons of lemonade and soft drinks, ate 350 bushels of peanuts and over 50,000 of the "motorman's glove" type of ball park sandwiches. They also managed to down some 97,000 ice cream cones and smoked 5,250 cigars and for all this indulgence paid out a total of $23,250.

In those five days the street car companies operating cars that run to the Polo Grounds showed an increase of $18,500 over normal everyday collections on those same cars. How many nickels is that? Folks who could afford taxis donated $2,200 for the privilege. 50,000 out-of-towners left $1,750,000 in New York for hotel bills alone. The railroads leading into this little village on Broadway estimate that the fares of Series Hounds totalled $1,350,000.

During the nine days, newspaper reporters sent on an average of 2,000 words apiece by telegraph to their papers. For this service the telegraph companies collected a cool half million.

All in all, the gate receipts for the Series were $605,475 while the amount of incidental business attendant upon the five games brought in a total of $3,668,900—about six times as much.

HITTING FROM THE TOP OF THE SWING

Mainly a Matter of Balance

Jock Hutchinson is frequently asked whether the stroke with the irons is more of a hit than that with the wood. His answer is that the difference is in the full swing, which is usual with the wood, and is shortened a little with the iron.

The trouble with the full swing is that in making it the body must be turned much more to the right on the backswing, and with the body thus wound up, any effort is more likely to throw it out of balance.

This, according to Jock, is one of the commonest golf troubles, and in one cases out of ten is what leads to topping, slicing, hooking, or any one of the several other faults.

PUNCHER IN LINE FOR BIG BOUTS

By JACK CONWAY

Jack Sharkey, latest heavyweight sensation, is once more back at the daily training grind. Although he still has a plaster over his left eye, the former heavyweight champion of the Navy is doing road work and going through exercises in the gym. He will do ten miles on the road each day. For the present boxing is barred on account of the injured eye.

Sharkey, like all heavyweights, needs plenty of road work so as to increase his wind. When Jack Dempsey is training for a ring test, does ten miles on the road each day. So does Harry Wills, famous negro heavyweight.

Jack Sharkey

We met Wills one morning last Summer after he had completed a jaunt through the Berkshires just outside of Adams.

"Road work is the best possible exercise for a heavyweight," said Wills. "Any big fellow who thinks he can win a hard, gruelling battle without doing a great deal of road work is a fool—as a soldier would be to go into battle without the implements of modern warfare.

RUNNING INCREASES THE WIND OF HEAVYWEIGHT.

"Running increases the wind and strengthens the muscles. Further more, when a boxer is working out in the open he is breathing in health building air."

At Atlantic City, Firpo was content to take walks along the beach. The result was Firpo tired quickly while Dempsey was still the Tiger in which his opponent was described out on the canvas.

Youthful Mister Sharkey has wisely studied the careers of Dempsey, Wills and Firpo. He is intelligent and so realizes he must employ the same scientific training methods as are used by the men at the top of the heavyweight division.

Sharkey has only engaged in four professional bouts, yet recently was in a position to turn down a $5000 offer from New York to meet Floyd Johnson.

Sharkey, according to Manager Johnny Buckley, will engage in three or four more bouts in New England before accepting any of the New York offers. Buckley has notified Tex Rickard that Sharkey will be prepared to make his New York debut in June. He will then probably show at the Milk Fund show and will be pitted against a heavyweight of national reputation.

Sharkey recently won over Eddie Record, though the latter was awarded the decision. The former sailor proved in that bout that he has the qualities which go to make a champion.

Perhaps some day in the near future Sharkey and Record will meet again. If they do, it will be a bitter contest. And Sharkey will win so decidedly that there will not be any question about the decision.

TERRY PARKER READY TO WALLOP RED CHAPMAN

Hambone Kelly, South Boston's disastrous kayo king, is once more prepared to start swapping punches with the opposition. This will be pleasing news to the fans. It is always interesting to see a carefree puncher like Kelly in action.

As Pat McCarthy has also resumed training it is very probable that Hambone and the Roxbury Adonis will once more engage in an exchange of punches. Frank Moody was expected to be McCarthy's first opponent, but the Englishman preferred a trip overseas to a tussle with Jim MacDonald's protege. Possibly Moody showed good judgment.

Red Chapman, who won over Johnny Dixon by a kayo in a spectacular bout at New Bedford the other night, is not looking for opponents. Terry Parker of the South End, who has a win to his credit over Tommy Nee, would like to work down with Chapman. There are many fans who figure that Parker would be able to dispose of Chapman.

GEORGE ROBINSON EAGER TO TEST BERLENBACH

If Paul Berlenbach parades into a New England ring, he can have George Robinson as an opponent. The Cambridge negro says he will stop Berlenbach as quickly as did Jack Delaney. Inasmuch as Berlenbach has run out of a couple of matches with Tommy Ribson of Malden, it will also probably be impossible to induce him to enter a ring with Robinson. The latter has made things mighty interesting for all of our brave middleweights and light-heavyweights

LOCAL GYMS IN FINAL MEET TONIGHT

Fred Byrnes

The pick of the track stars of this city will meet in the final indoor track meet to decide the municipal championship in the Curtis Hall, Jamaica Plain. Five of the gyms have entered teams to compete for individual and team honors.

The events are 25 yard dash, 300 yard run, 440 yard run, 600 yard run, relay race and running high jump.

J. Stack is slated to start in the 25-yard dash. In the other running events will be Parmentier, Whelan Walsh, Caravan and O'Neil.

The games are under the supervision of Beauty Park Commissioner William P. Long who has invited Mayor Curley to attend.

KEARNS ADMITS WILLS MATCH IS MADE

Jack Kearns

Jack expects the proposed bout will net him and Dempsey, close to $1,000,000

"Dempsey and I have been slandered long enough," Kearns said it is partly to "stop such talk," and partly "to prove to the world that Wills looks no bigger to Jack than anyone else," that the fight will be held he declared.

Ed. Walsh, who, no doubt, will be one of the mainstays of the hurling squad, is confined to his home in Meriden, Conn. It will be three or four weeks before he returns for practice.

"Barney" Coyle of Peabody, who did a little hurling last season, looks well and he will be added to the varsity pitching squad.

ST. JOHN'S PREP HAS THIRTY-FIVE IN SQUAD

CAVALRY MEETS ESSEX POLO CLUB

The final indoor polo game of the season will be played tomorrow in the Commonwealth armory when the 116th Cavalry meets the Essex County Polo Club. This will be a rubber game, as each team has won one game.

Between the chukkers the Cavalry Rough Riding Squad will give an exhibition.

A fast game is assured, as both teams have played well this season.

The Essex County team will be represented by Albert Burrage, Robert Almy and John Lasells. The Cavalry players will be Captain A. P. Thayer, Lieutenant R. A. Magent, sergeant William Wright and John Walsh.

Harvard and Yale Crews Will Race Early in Day

Fred Moore

Fred W. Moore, graduate treasurer of athletics, pointed out that high tide [illegible] day would come at noon, and that because of shoals along the course it was necessary to row the race within a few hours of high tide.

As a result of a meeting of Harvard and Yale officials at New Haven, it is considered likely that an agreement will be reached to row the race some time between noon and 4 o'clock.

Old time race followers say that the 1909 'varsity race was the most recent in the Harvard-Yale series to be rowed early in the afternoon.

FLANAGAN WILL GIVE TEST TO CLARK

Tommy Flanagan

North Shore boxing fans will flock to Lynn next Monday night to see Buddy Clark of Salem and Tommy Flanagan of New Bedford meet in the main event at the Casino A. C.

Flanagan is the most formidable opponent that the Salem boy has ever been called upon to face, but Clark and his friends are confident that when the event ends Flanagan will be added to the list of [illegible] Clark, one of the best featherweights developed in New England in years and many good judges of boxers believe that with proper handling he will develop into a champion.

Flanagan, who has held Frankie Britt and Pete Hartley to draws and defeated such boys as Tommy Leahy, Harry Carlson, Gene Ferrier, Barney Rivers, Jimmy Fruzzetti, Micky Landers, Huchey Kennedy, Francis Rossi and Willie Stanton, is one of the best boys in this part of the country and if Clark is successful against him he will have earned the right to mingle with the best lightweights in the game.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic Coughs and Persistent Colds Lead to Serious Lung Trouble. You Can Stop Them Now With Creomulsion, an Emulsified Creosote That Is Pleasant to Take.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical profession as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

CHICKIE

By ELENORE MEHERIN

Seething Life of a Lovely Boston Girl of This Strange Today

"JIMMY—you brute, I thought I'd grown so perfectly gorgeous."

"You were, always, that. Say, remember the first time you wore a shirtwaist with a blue and white check skirt? Gosh, didn't you think you were the whole city then?"

He grinned: "Haven't been stepping out much lately, have you? Given the black feature the gate? Tired of the gay life?" His fingers drove sudden through his hair.

She tossed her chin flippantly: "And I so young and fair, Jimmy! Now, honestly, you wouldn't want me to be weary so soon, would you?"

"Wouldn't I! Gash, I'd roll along Washington street from one end to the other on my head! If you're not sick of it, you seem to be sticking pretty close to the family fireside."

"I take it, Mr. Jimmy Biskra, you're keeping tab on me?"

"Jake? You've heard a few things about him? Well—most of them aren't true, I know it, Jimmy. Jake's really a peach."

They stepped outside the movie house to read the announcements, glance over the ads. They passed on—kept walking, looking in shop windows. Jimmy dallied along with her, amiable as a girl.

"Awfully nice in you to let me size up bargains, Jimmy," as Chickie pointed out hats in a millinery shop.

The night, for December, was warm. Young girls, their arms laced about each other, went prancing in groups of three and four. Married couples, complacent, preoccupied about, not talking, absently pushing go-carts. Mothers, with three or four children at their heels, made frantic darts from one curb to the other.

"Oh, my, yes! Look at that kid there all but crushed to death by that machine."

Quizzes Her

"Anyway, it has a friendly feeling. Let's not bother with a show. How about a waffle or a sandwich?"

"Or ice cream? I want both—everything."

Mlle. Carlotta Zambelli, du Theatre National de Opera, Paris, says: "I have used Cashmere Bouquet for years and find it the best soap for skin and complexion."

A BOOK could be written about the goodness of Savon Cadum, but the really interesting thing about it is, that the French women keep right on buying it, until today it has the largest sale of any toilet soap in France, 25c.

"Well, hop to it! Don't keep me in suspense. Are you going to be married?"

He stared at her gloomily. "You'd be glad if I were, Chickie?"

"Oh, Jimmy—of course I'd be glad if you were going to be awfully happy."

He said quietly, "I'm not going to be married. I asked you something a little while ago, Chickie. You're not going out as much as you were."

"Oh, I'm giving my seventy-nine suitors a week off! And myself a chance to grab off some beauty sleep."

"You've narrowed the seventy-nine down to two, haven't you? And now it looks as though there's only one. Chickie—can't you tell your old Jimmy about it. I'd tell you. Are you engaged yet?"

She forced her glance upward, her chin trembling, and said with an attempt at flippancy: "What is love, Jimmy—you know, don't you?"

His face grew suddenly white, the boy's mouth, tender for all its strength, snapped: "That's not the kind of love for you to know, Chickie. Say—what do you think I can go to Honolulu and take charge of a plant there if I want. If I stay here I'll be assistant superintendent. I'll have $300 a month, Chickie. That's not bad. Is it? Going to buy a machine for mother. Aw, see, Chickie, cut through and tell me—why have you been home for the last week and more. Say—I thought—oh, well——"

She clasped and unclasped her hands uneasily, fear for what he might say darting into her eyes.

He saw it and pushed the waffle from him: "Don't be afraid, little kid—I'm not going to wish Jimmy on you." He laughed and slid over on the bench close to her, saying: "Chickie does he love you as much as I do?" Does that Redhead know how to love you enough?"

"And I live just down the block from another angel, and if she ever wants to know what love is, tell her to blow around, will you, Chickie? She'll find it waiting for her—sure as God lives."

Felt Sorry For Jimmy

Jimmy's eyes all black, his white, excited face moved her strangely. She said, with a little odd pathos, "Jimmy, darling, would you like to see me come trailing my wings in the dust just so you could brush them off?"

"God forbid, Chickie!" he grinned. "But if brush you ever need, I'll bet I know who'd give a lot to find it for you." He kept laughing. "Imagine you loving a fellow, Chickie. Say—well, hope he knows how lucky he is."

She felt sorry for Jimmy—dear Jimmy, that she'd loved all her life. She thought of him with a touching beauty, her eyes misted, but as a figure in the distance—the tall boy, with muscles of iron, digging the cave for them in the vacant lot; the mighty one, who set off double-headed Dutchman on the Fourth of July and laughed because they clapped their hands over their ears, screaming.

She didn't think of the Jimmy who sat next her now grinning, but a man's heart pleading and suffering in his eyes. The glory of her own love wrapped about her like a luminous, soft haze, setting her apart as one on a mountain top.

Jimmy was allowed to pass as Jake passed. With a dreamy sadness, sweet as remembered music, she watched them go. She wished to be alone—young priestess in a temple. She wanted to clear her life of all other interests. Sometimes she imagined Barry and herself standing above the world—just they, no breath, no thought no light except one through the other—moving as in radiance through eternity.

She told this to him shyly. He laughed: "Kiss me, you sweet poets, thing. But don't let's fly in the clouds for a year or so. We've not seen the earth yet."

"A year or so, Barry? Why, I thought it was to be at least five or six before we could even think of it."

He colored, drawing a deep startled breath: "Well, you—I—Heral indeed! I thought that—naps on your lighted mountaintop all things would be given us. We would not need to eat or rain succeed. As it is—only your dan grous that you don't like a bit—

She said vaguely, trembling: "I wonder if it is so terrible, after all."

It threw her a strap dubious—and disliked. He was silent for a long while.

"Two five or six year wait was in the back of Chickie's mind, distant, like a small burr that stuck persistently into the skin. It was, however, to undergo deformation. She caught herself pausing when she dressed, stopping abruptly in the middle of the street or—thing into a deep meditation in the midst of her typing. She saw the face of old Chinaman stretching out in—arms imploringly—and she felt a chill finger pressing down on her heart.

It was borne in on her fiercely, with a little jarring terror one—Barry would take—Lodge in weeks—Then—he—tired—and—Paris—before—[illegible]

PORK IS A BARGAIN

BEEF, LAMB AND POULTRY STAY HIGH

THERE has been very little change in the prices quoted by big grade retail markets in Boston during the past week. Beef, lamb and poultry remain high, while pork products continue very cheap.

Turkeys, roasting chickens and broilers sell for 50 cents a pound in the better markets, but can be bought cheaper. Native fowl sell for 40 cents and Western fowl 28 cents a pound.

Beef prices vary widely for the different grades. Sirloin steaks sell the way from 65 to 80 cents a pound. The first choice [illegible] round cuts now bring [illegible] cents a pound, while [illegible] cents a pound. Rib roasts [illegible] cents a pound, and [illegible] cents a pound.

Choice [illegible] lamb sell for 45 to 45 cents a pound. Chops are also [illegible]

Fresh vegetables from Southland [illegible] appearing [illegible] the market in [illegible] quantities. California [illegible] are selling for 60 to 70 cents a basket. [illegible] Spanish [illegible]

New sweet potatoes sell for 5 cents each. Red [illegible] bring [illegible] for 10 to 15 cents a head. [illegible] cents a quart, [illegible] cents a quart, [illegible] cents a pound, [illegible] per bunch, and [illegible] for 25 cents a bunch.

CORRECT MANNERS

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman
Invitng an Acquaintance

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN,

About a month ago my married sister and I went to see a girl friend, who was staying at her mother's house after an illness. While there I met this girl and liked her for the first time and since then I have not seen her.

I would like to know if it would be proper and correct to send him an invitation to a party we are going to have next month, and if so, in what way can I express myself without seeming forward?

My sister will not be able to attend the party, so I shall have to [illegible] him to my parents and escort.

Please give me your good advice about this and relieve me of my doubt.

M. F. L.

IT would be perfectly proper and most hospitable and friendly for you to invite this young man to the party. You met him in a very pleasant way, in excellent form, and you are extending to him the hospitality of your home at a party chaperoned by your mother and other members of your family. Every element of good form is here. Instead of telephoning to the young man to ask him to the party, write him a note. This is much better form, for it gives the guest an opportunity to consider the invitation, and, if he is given the invitation by note, then you know that he wants to come. Say something like this:

"Dear Mr. Noel:

"We are having a party at our home on Thursday, the twentieth of December, and my mother and I would be very happy if you can be one of our guests. Are you free on that evening, and will you come? It is to be just an informal gathering of our friends, and we should like to have them know you and have you know them. Will you come in about eight o'clock?

"With friendly greetings to you, I am,

"Very cordially yours,
"MARIE FESSENDEN."

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

SEND IN YOUR PRIZE RECIPES

By Martha Lee

FROM the Gem State comes a recipe for corn and corn fritters which is original, inexpensive and appetizing, and wins today a $1 prize. It was sent in by Mrs. C. A. Wheeler, 110 Walnut street, Nashua, N. H. Serves 4, costs 25c.

HAM AND CORN FRITTERS.

Chop 1 cup of cold boiled ham. Add 1 can of canned corn. Add 1 egg beaten light and just flour enough to [illegible] Fry [illegible] with salt and pepper and fry in deep hot fat.

Among the many other excellent recipes is a seasonable one for "Spring Pudding," from Mrs. Minnie Holdroyd, 26 Cherry street, Brencer, which deserves honorable mention.

SPRING PUDDING.

One cup prune juice, ½ cup hot water, 2 cups rhubarb cut fine; 20 stewed and stoned prunes; ½ cup sugar, [illegible] cup sugar. Soak [illegible] hour; about 20 minutes [illegible] minutes. Cool and [illegible] cream. Will serve 6 [illegible]

[illegible] mention should also go to Mrs. [illegible] of No. 694 Wickenden street, Providence. If I, who [illegible] a recipe for escalloped potatoes which she says is the favorite dish of her family, it can be prepared for 25 cents.

ESCALLOPED POTATOES.

One quart potatoes, 4 onions, 1 quart milk, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon salt. Cut in thin slices and arrange in alternate layers in baking dish, sprinkling each layer with flour, pepper, salt and bits of butter. Sufficient milk to just cover. Dust with crumbs and butter dots and bake slowly 1¼ hours.

When Ignorance Is Not Bliss

Mrs. Blah—There goes Professor Piffle. They say that he speaks in ten different languages.

Mrs. Bloory—How marvelous! His wife is very proud of him, I suppose?

Mrs. Blah—No; it makes her as mad as a hornet. It drives her crazy to realize that she doesn't know what he is talking about.

Help Wanted

Now that a new gas has been discovered, which will chloroform a person for more than a week, perhaps some brilliant inventor will step to the front with a pocket tube by which it can be discharged at some after-dinner speakers.

At Close Quarters

She—How do you like my complexion?

He (in muffled tones)—It tastes fine.

STATIONS FOR CONGRESS URGED

Senator Howell Proposes Broadcast From Senate and House

Washington, March 28.—A proposal that the Senate and House Chambers be equipped with radio broadcasting apparatus was made in a resolution by Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska.

Would the Senator consider an amendment extending the service to the Attorney-General's office and the White House?" asked Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi.

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, shut off a reply by suggesting an amendment to investigate "repeated assertions that the Radio Corporation of America is a trust."

Immediate consideration of the resolution was blocked by Senator Curtis, Republican, Kansas, who expressed the terse opinion that "it had better go over."

Radio Receiving Conditions Tonight

Radio receiving conditions in Boston should be good tonight from stations broadcasting in the Eastern part of the country and lower Canada. Conditions in the West will not be as good, because of the low barometric pressure area, which extends from the Rocky Mountain section eastward.

Watch a New Socket

Radio tube sockets are often the cause of a new receiver not working right. Look them over and see that the contacts are tight, clean and are not too far enough to make contact with the four prongs of the tubes. These prongs should be looked at frequently

MacMILLAN IS PICKED UP BY WEST HAVEN

Connecticut Amateur First to Hear from Explorer Since Feb. 15

New Haven, March 28.—That Donald B. MacMillan and his party of Arctic explorers are safe was definitely established here when B. T. Joyce of West Haven picked up the expedition which was broadcasting on the radio the text of messages received from Governors of several States.

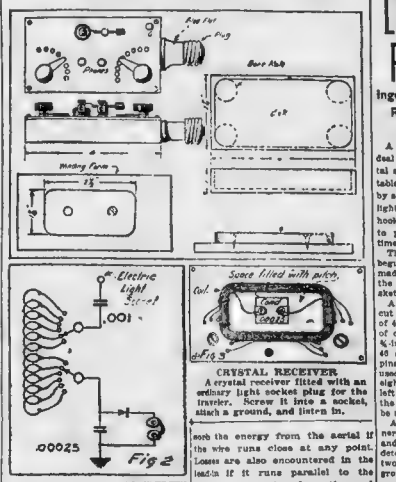
PORTABLE RADIO SET IN FOUR-INCH BOX



CRYSTAL RECEIVER

KEEP AERIAL FROM ROOF AND PIPES

The aerial works better if it is kept well away from all metal on the roof. Skylights and pipes absorb the energy from the aerial if the wire runs close at any point. Losses are also encountered in the leadin if it runs parallel to the drain pipes running from the roof down the side of the buildings.

Aerials on adjoining buildings may affect the efficiency of your aerial. This loss may be avoided by running the wire in a direction opposite the others.

HOOK UP SET TO LIGHT SOCKET FOR AERIAL

Ingenious Portable Crystal Receiver Brings in Local Concerts on Phones

A radio fan who travels a great deal has designed an ingenious crystal set which is the best really portable receiver yet devised. Simply by screwing the set into an ordinary light socket, attaching a ground, and hooking up the ear-phones, he is able to pick up local concerts at any time.

The construction of the receiver is begun with the container, which is made of a single piece of wood of the dimensions illustrated in the sketch.

A hard rubber or bakelite panel is cut from ¼-inch stock to the size of 4x2¾ inches. Holes for both sets of contact points are laid out on a ¾-inch radius and drilled with a No. 46 drill. The heads of extra large pins with the points clipped off are used for the contact points. One-eighth inch of the pins should be left protruding on the underside of the panel, so that connections may be made.

A hole is also drilled in each corner for the holding down screw, and the holes for the screws of the detector and the three binding posts, two for the 'phones and one for the ground, are drilled at this time.

WINDING THE COIL.

A simple wooden form is made for the tuning coil. It is wound with fifty turns of No. 22 single cotton covered wire and sixteen taps one for approximately every three turns of wire, are made.

When the coil is lifted from the winding form it will be wise to bind it with a few turns of string, so that it will remain in shape. Before the tuning coil is put in final position on the under side of the panel everything else should be put in place.

After two leads are brought out for the fixed condenser hot sealing wax or pitch may be poured into the space enclosed by the coil. This tends to keep out moisture and successfully holds the tuning coil in place as well as the taps. The fixed condenser, which is of the capacity ordinarily used to shunt the telephones of a crystal receiver, is now soldered in place.

LIGHT PLUG ATTACHED.

An ordinary electric light plug is attached to the end of the case. This can be done with a couple of pins. Holes are drilled through the sides of the insulated portion of the plug and these continue on through the wood.

Two long pins driven into these holes and clinched over will hold the plug to the box securely. One terminal of this plug is brought to a mica condenser of about .0015 mfds. capacity. The other terminal of this condenser is carried to the aerial lead, as illustrated in the wiring diagram, for it is the light wires that take the place of the aerial, and this condenser is inserted to prevent direct metal connection.

A good mica condenser, which has a breakdown voltage of several thousand volts should be used.

An improvement which might help to overcome this condition would be to screw any such connected that the condenser in the aerial circuit could be shifted from one side of the plug to the other. In this type of aerial it often happens that one terminal of a lighting circuit will not work while the other will work perfectly.

Radio Queries

Could you or any listener tell me what station was broadcasting a barn dance Monday night about 11:30 on about 337 meters? I think there were four call letters. R. D. S.

I note a Milton fan picked up KGO, Oakland, Tuesday night. I listened to your orchestra for a while. Then I picked up the announcer at WKAQ, San Juan, P. R., until WJAR came on and drowned him out. Next got 6KW, Cuba, and then picked up WEAA, Dallas. Heard WDA announcing winners in a contest and then some station in Ottawa broadcasting a game. At 9:30 got CHBC, at Calgary, broadcasting the "Bronche Busters," and telling us how wet they were singing, "It ain't goin' to rain any more," and that they were having a contest soon with prizes. I also heard the Nighthawks from Kansas City, singing "Down Among the Sleepy Hills of Tennessee." The end of a perfect day came when KGO came in with "Mama Loves Papa," "I Love You," and for a final number, "Dreama." They signed off at 1:03 a. m., Pacific time. Tray Beans, what? E. D. R.

A fine night's trip, but when do you sleep?

I have had considerable trouble with my Super, and finally traced it to the grid leak. I used a 1½ m-g-ohm, trying those of several reliable manufacturers. Finally I tested them and found that the 1½ meg measured 11 megohms, and the others proportionately. I finally found one of the right resistance, and my troubles ended. I noticed that out of a large number very few are marked correctly. Hope this will help some fans. F. G.

We have noted this in connection with the capacity of fixed condensers, but in a less degree in the case of grid leaks. I suggest that you tell the manufacturer of your difficulty.

Will you kindly tell me what station in Baltimore broadcast the Harry Grob-Fay Kelser fight on the night of the 24th? E. J. N.

I have made a Super Dick (Two tubes), using 13-plate condensers, 199 tubes and coils with 63 turns on the secondary and 5½ primary. I get WNAC on 20 and 23 and WGI on 50 and 55, and these are the only stations I can bring in. I. W. O.

By failing to wind the proper number of turns on the secondary you have made the set so that it will not tune up to the longer waves, as well as throwing it out of balance. This alone would explain why you Co not get better results. Directions should be followed exactly. For best results, add a two stage audio amplifier.

MACMILLAN'S RADIO EQUIPMENT

Powerful Sets Aboard Ship Will Keep Him in Touch with Civilization

Washington, March 28.—Radio equipment aboard the MacMillan Arctic expedition ship Bowdoin, which is now in the Far North, is the most powerful ever carried on a vessel of its size, according to Commander Stanford C. Hooper, U. S. N., who has charge of the radio work of the expedition.

The Bowdoin is equipped with a 2 kilowatt set, which will be used for communication with the United States, and a 1 kilowatt set for communication with the Eskimos and other natives. Both sets are of the spark type.

The Bowdoin will be in touch with Arlington, Commander Hooper said, and will receive time signals, weather reports and other information.

TUBE CHANGES BY NAD CAUSE INTERFERENCE

Navy Station Alterations and Amateurs Contribute Some to Broadcasting Difficulties

Alterations in the tube transmitter equipment of the Boston Navy Yard Station, NAD, compelled the use of the old spark set last night, which caused some interference with broadcasting.

The tube transmitter, as originally installed, was built for an old type of Navy tubes, which the Navy Department was seeking to use up. Now that these tubes are all used, the set is being made over for the use of a new tube which uses a lower plate voltage.

According to Lieutenant Moore, the communications officer at the Navy Yard, the change-over will be completed before the broadcasting period this evening.

The hump in the wave of WBF, the Tropical Radio in Boston, and a Baldtree amateur, caused most of the remaining interference.

INTERFERENCE LOG FOR MARCH 27.

8.46—Someone testing.
8.50—Quiet.
8.52—Local interference stopped.
9.00 to 9.50—Quiet, except for static, which has increased.
9.58—Time signals from KDKA, East Pittsburgh.
10.00 to 10.27—Quiet.
10.27—NAD, Navy Yard, Boston, working KEVV, American steamer Schoharie, on the spark set, using a wave-length over 600, but interfering throughout the scale from 800 meters up.
10.34—NAD still working.
10.40—NAD finished.
10.40—ICK, Phillip F. Robinson, No. 149 Hillis avenue, Braintree, calling 3ASS, a Portsmouth, Va., amateur. Amateurs are permitted to work after 10:30, but Robinson's station is so powerful that he caused interference for nearly every listener in Braintree and vicinity.
10.44—ICK calling 8BF, a Cleveland amateur.
10.50—Quiet.
10.54—ICK calling 3ANL, a Pittsburgh amateur.

RELIEF, VIA WBW.

And in comfort quite elated,
When police reports assure me:
"All is well in Tarrytown."

Secretary Wallace made out a deservedly good case for the radio as an aid to the farmer. Now, when Dr. DeForrest or some other inventor devises something that will enable us to see the bright lights while we listen in on Broadway songs, maybe it will be the final answer to the old query: "How are we going to keep the boy on the farm?"

THINGS TO TUNE OUT ON.

Parts "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice."

CHICAGO NEWSPAPERS START BROADCASTING

Chicago, March 28.—Chicago's morning newspapers, the Tribune, and the Herald and Examiner, today announced plans for operating radio broadcasting stations for programs of music, news and general information.

The Tribune assumes control of the Zenith Edgewater Beach Hotel station WJAZ tomorrow. This station is one of the most powerful in the country. A change in its 448-metre wave length is contemplated, probably reducing to 370 metres.

The Herald and Examiner has joined with Sears, Roebuck & Co., in a new station to be opened in April. The call will be WBBX and the wave length 445 metres.

Where One of the World's G... Battles Was Fought

A MONG ... [illegible] ... backbu... pace ... you w... Scot... ney ... one... ... great ... "Bu... small ... name ... souls ... several ... to the ... the water of a river whose last means ... Ga... white ... stream."

Something like 609 years has gone by since Robert Bruce defeated King Edward of England in the most signal victory ever won over an English grand army by a very much inferior force. English historians still blush as they tell the story. They minimize the forces, claiming that Edward had but 60,000 men against 40,000 led by Bruce. The Scottish writers insist that Edward headed 100,000 men, the greatest army ever assembled by England up to that time and for many centuries afterward. The Scots had but 30,000.

It is certain that Robert Bruce was the greatest military strategist of the Middle Ages, for he actually chose his ground and followed a plan of battle that has been the admiration of modern soldiers. The armies, of course, were those of the age of chivalry, armored knights on horseback, archers, men-at-arms to the number of many thousands on the English side, while the Scots opposed unarmored footmen to the charge of these knights armed cap-a-pie.

Bruce had prepared for the British cavalry by digging a great many pits in front of his position and covering them with grasses. He had formed his army so that marshes on one side and the river on the other protected his flanks. The British were compelled to make a frontal attack.

Edward was no general, and he simply sent his men forward against carefully prepared positions. Like all battles of the Middle Ages, the slaughter was terrific. The British fought stubbornly until a couple of thousand camp-followers of Bruce's army—women, old men and children—swarmed over a ridge in the rear shouting and screaming. The British thought Scotch reinforcements were coming, and the entire army fled.

The Scottish guides are familiar with all the details of the battle and they relate them with great gusto. The victory assured Bruce of the independence of Scotland and took all the fight out of Edward. So much so that Bruce was able later to go to Ireland and raise the country against the English there. Bruce was successful so long as he stayed in Ireland himself, but when he returned to Scotland leaving his brother as King of Ireland, the English soon obtained the upper hand.

HEROINES OF HISTORY

By Mark Sullivan

Deformed Child Who Founded a Religious Sect

HAS any human being—doctor, mother, humanitarian the right to say whether the shy, born monster, shall live?

This question has been discussed many times in the United States—whenever, in fact, there has been born a creature so deformed of body and seemingly devoid of mentality as to cause a wave of horror to sweep the land.

Yet the same question arose in 1616, when a merchant of Lille and his wife begged so hard for the life of a deformed daughter that those who wished the infant destroyed as a monster spared her.

Antoinette Bourignon grew up to be a religious enthusiast and founder of a sect bearing her name. As a child she was a solitary and neglected little figure, so she made up for her loneliness by seeking spiritual consolation.

On the day appointed for her marriage she fled to a convent after radical ideas met with disfavor there, however, and she was expelled.

It was then that the small French woman began her wanderings through far countries in search of converts to her belief.

Antoinette lectured throughout France and in the Netherlands, Denmark and Sweden, and many were won to her banner.

The doctrines she offered were filled with mysticism. Many of her teachings were presented as divine revelations, obtained by her while in trances or through visions which she claimed constantly attended her.

Antoinette met with a degree of success as much through hard work as through being able to give the world something new. She preached to the high and to the lowly, early and late, wherever and whenever any would listen.

In addition to her work as a lecturer, she carried on the teaching of her doctrine through writing, turning out twenty-one large volumes in all. She died in 1680.

MEDBURY SAYS—

By John P. Medbury

THE one with the longest arm is the healthiest.

OF course, he tires himself out if he attempts to do this with peas.

HE usually tips the dish of peas over and catches them one by one as they roll his way.

THEN he went down to a sporting goods store and bought her a fielder's mitt.

THE son sat between his father and mother and acted as short stop.

THE boy got fat while his mother almost starved to death. The only food that got past his hands were things that he didn't like.

HIS father finally had to send him away to boarding school so that his mother could get something to eat.

THE book of etiquette says that it's rude to snatch, but the author of that novel probably wrote it just after he'd finished a big meal.

WHEN you sit at the table and see the whole family grabbing for the meat and the vegetables and leaving none for you, you're not going to lean back in your chair and say to yourself, "What's wrong with this picture?"

CARRIERS MOST ACTIVE IN NEW YORK

Chicago Northwestern extended its gain to 3 points and Northern Pacific 2½, while Union Pacific, New Haven, Great Northern preferred, Rock Island, Peoria and Eastern issues, Norfolk & Western, Illinois Central, St. Paul preferred, St. Louis Southwestern and Lackawanna were a point or more above yesterday's final figures.

Call money opened at 4% and then advanced to 5 per cent.

Boston & Albany gained 2 points in trading on the Boston Stock Exchange. New Haven added a major fraction. Losses of 2 or more points came in General Electric, Eastern Mass. trust certificates and Mohawk.

St. Paul Bonds Move Up Despite Profit-Taking

In the big bond market expected profit-taking developed in St. Paul Railroad bonds, but failed to stem the advance, the convertible 4½s moving up more than a point to a new peak price for the year at 65.

Reports that a new financing plan would be favorable to Peoria & Eastern bondholders imparted fresh strength to the road's income 4s, which extended Thursday's five-point gain. Chicago, Great Western 4s and Atlantic Refining 6s moved up a point, and Norfolk & Western convertible 6s yielding 2½ points to selling pressure.

COTTON MILLS STOCKS OFF

Gastonia, N. C., March 28.—Weekly average of 25 cotton mill stock stands at 126.76 for the week, against 130.60 for last week, a net decline of 3.84 points, and is the largest decline reported in the same period of time since the depression of 1920.

Considering the increased cash position of the financial statement over 1291, a great many of the stocks are now relatively cheaper than at any period since 1921.

The largest declines during the week took place in Spartan, 17 points; Pelzmell, 7 points; Mooresville, 7; Orr, 7; Judson, 6; Woodside, 6; Riverside and Dan River, 6, Loose 6; Riverside and Dan River, 6, Loomes 6 and 5 points were registered in Anderson, Arrow, Brogan, Cabarrus China, Gove, Crescent and Sterling. Abungerou, with an advance of one point in bid prices, was the only advance registered in the entire list of common stocks, while preferred stocks, as usual, held up well, and a fair demand for them was noted.

FORBES' Views on FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

If a bank agrees to lend you or me money, we don't expect the banker to go around telling everybody how much we had to pay to get the loan.

There is the keenest of curiosity over the rate of interest and other terms connected with the $100,000,000 credit which a group of bankers, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., have arranged to extend to the Bank of France. All sorts of whys and wherefores have been going the rounds. One man will tell you, very confidentially, that the French have had to pay through the nose. Another will assure you that France was granted extremely favorable terms. One moment you will be told that France has already drawn heavily upon this credit; the next you may be told that it has not, and never has been. The intentions of the Bank of France actually to use a single dollar of the money.

* * *

Now, what are the facts?

* * *

I can state authoritatively that the rate of interest is less, rather than more, than the legal rate of interest in the State of New York, which is 6 per cent.

* * *

I can state also, that interest will be charged upon the precise amount the Bank of France may call upon the American bankers to furnish.

* * *

No $100,000,000 loan has been extended to France. When a borrower obtains a loan he, naturally, has to pay interest on the full amount of such loan. The Bank of France is not paying interest on $100,000,000. It will pay interest, as already stated, only on such part of that sum as may actually be called for by the borrower.

* * *

Of course, neither American bankers nor any other banks are in business for pleasure, but for profit. It was necessary for the Bank of France in the first instance, and for J. P. Morgan & Co., in the second instance, to offer an inducement to bankers to pledge themselves to furnish such a large amount of money. Just what it was found necessary to pay, I do not know, since the lenders take the attitude that they never publish details of their transactions with borrowers.

I am assured, however, by those in possession of the exact facts that the terms named were regarded by the Bank of France as eminently fair and reasonable. One banker associated with the transaction tells me that the Bank of France expressed itself as "delighted" with the terms offered.

* * *

How much of the $100,000,000 credit has already been utilized by the French Bank, I do not pretend to know.

My impression, however, is that no considerable amount has yet been called for. Because if the French franc should maintain anything like the strength it has maintained ever since the $100,000,000 loan announced, the indications are that the American bankers will not be called upon to pay over many millions of the amount pledged.

A LEAP YEAR OPTIMIST

"I'm tickled to death I'm single, I'm ticked to death I'm free.
'What are the wild waves saying?' doesn't apply to me.
I'm frightfully proud I'm single—I'm frightfully glad I'm free!
But, I've been quite isolated. They can't catch me!"

Lord Beaverbrooke, born in Canada, comes to America quite often and knows about the American attitude concerning the League of Nations, the sloppy imitation World Court, and other schemes that international financiers devise in order to get the United States mixed up in European matters, loans, etc., with profit for the financiers.

To meet the mood of his British leaders, Lord Beaverbrooke's cartoonist shows Uncle Sam in a costume none too dignified. He wears military trousers, with a "comic opera" coat, a fluffy collar of the circus clown with dollar marks, and the old familiar "stovepipe" hat.

BUT, he is free from European entanglements and is happy.

It is a good thing that Beaverbrooke and some other intelligent Britishers REALIZE the attitude of the United States. The tune that Uncle Sam is playing in this picture he will continue playing for some time. The sooner Europe makes up her mind to it, and begins planning to PULL HERSELF out of the mud and out of war, the better.

We LOVE Europe, we want to HELP Europe, but we DON'T want Europe to put any mortgage on us. "WE'RE TICKLED TO DEATH WE'RE FREE."

This Country Needs More Fliers

And More Flying Machines

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

This country INVENTED the flying machine. This country has the best FLIERS; they hold the navy air records. But this country is miserably weak in its air force, compared with England and France. The total air force is less than 10 per cent. of the 12,000 officers and 125,000 men of the army allowed by Congress.

France has the greatest fighting air fleet, numbering about two thousand; Great Britain is second, with about one-quarter of the French equipment, and the United States is a miserable third, most of her machines NOT of the modern type.

The Congress of the United States, whatever else it does or does NOT do, should put this nation FIRST among the world's flying powers, and first in submarines. Future wars will be up in the air and down under the water.

Watch Out For Mad Dogs

A Somerville policeman killed a dog after it had bitten five persons, day before yesterday. A dog in Marlborough snapped at a number of school children yesterday. There was another outbreak last week. Official alertness may discover an incipient epidemic peculiar to dogs and check it in time to save lives. Muzzling may be necessary. Almost every normal human loves dogs. But the life of one normal human is worth all the dogs.

Boston's Front Yard

The first impression given the visitor to Boston is that of the odorous South Station. It lacks the fragrance that a front yard should have. Officials of the New Haven railroad know the reason. The sanitary violations there would justify Dr. Mahoney in closing the station as a public nuisance. It may be impossible at this time to give Boston the railroad facilities it deserves, but ten cents a day will abate this affront.

Once-Overs

There is none so aggravating as the person who is careless of keeping engagements or appointments promptly.

To be habitually a few minutes late is soon known and recognized as an undesirable quality in a friend or business associate.

Men and women who have risen to great heights as executive heads are the sort who are prompt, to the dot.

Men who control the lives and actions of others know the value of prompt action and are plain sure to expect it from others.

LISTEN, WORLD! -:- By ELSIE ROBINSON

I'M thinking a good deal this week about the plays of Artzibasheff which I have just read. Mr. Artzibasheff belongs to that school of pompous male authors who inspire one with a wild yearning to gnaw the gas range or chew holes in the linoleum. Which reaction won't bother Mr. Artzibasheff in the least, for he has a supreme contempt for all that women may do, say or think. Moreover, he won't believe us, whether we say it with flowers or brickbats.

"Woman is a natural liar," says he. "Woman has an infamous talent for lie, sex lie. She deceives as no man would or could. . . . The most corrupt man hates to deceive; while woman is convinced that she holds from nature the right to lie and that, far from lowering her, it merely adds to her charm."

Don't you feel the tear drops gushing as you think of the agony of those strong men who "hate to deceive" when wife calls them up in the midst of a poker game? And consider their spiritual torture as they explain why they've carried that letter unposted for three weeks—or their grief as they 'phone Mary that they've got to work tonight at the office. Doubtless these are the sorrows to which Artzibasheff alludes. But we are willing to bet our next week's salary that none of that stuff gets by with Mrs. Artzibasheff. "Do not men hate to deceive?" Yes, they do not. Not so's you'd notice it.

But, smiles aside, how about this charge that woman is a liar? Will the average woman fib to a man on any and nearly all occasions? Much as I dislike to agree with this Russian person, I am forced to say that she will and does. But I loudly deny that she does this from natural endowment.

Why do women lie? They lie because they think they must. And very often they think right. From the day the first fire was kindled in the first cave home, and the woman was delegated to guard that fire, women have lied. They had lied because, being denied the freedom of the trail and the division of the hunt, they were at man's mercy for shelter and food. They and their children were at his mercy, and the helplessness of the child was a greater incentive than their own helplessness. If the man was offended they and their children went hungry or were beaten. The man might err, but he was answerable only to himself. But let them err and his wrath was quick to fall. Naturally they fibbed and flattered to ease their destiny.

And naturally they fib and flatter to this day. AS LONG AS WOMAN IS KEPT IN A STATE OF ECONOMIC DEPENDENCE JUST SO LONG WILL SHE FIB AND FLATTER. And man would do exactly the same were he in her shoes. In fact, as before hinted, he keeps up a pretty fair batting average in the liar class without that excuse.

"But that condition will last forever," John Henry protests. "Women will always be the home-makers and men the providers. Does she have to be a liar just because she's a wife and mother?"

No, she doesn't. BUT AS LONG AS WIFEHOOD AND MOTHERHOOD HAVE NO ECONOMIC STANDING OR REWARDS SHE IS VERY APT TO BE A LIAR. Show me the man who feels that his wife really EARNS half of his salary. He may give her half, he may even give her all, but he gives it as an expression of his generosity (or because he can't help himself) and NOT AS AN EXPRESSION OF HER RIGHT. He gives it "because he loves the little woman." And if he gets mad at the little woman he is extremely likely not to give it, although she works just as hard as she did formerly. This is what he feels and what he makes her feel. And then he wonders why she fibs and flatters!

Clothing For Man

Editor Helping Hand:

I have considerable clothing for a man, size 36, shoes, size 7. Also a teddy bear and two Summer hats for seven or eight-year-old girls.

MRS. M. R.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of Mrs. M. L. K. for the girl's hats and man's clothing, and also the address of Mrs. G. H. B. for the men's shoes and teddy bear.

Girl Asks Aid

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a little girl ten years old and there are five children in my family, and my father has not been working only two and three days a week. We need so many things it is hard to get along. The girls are 14, 11 and 6 besides myself and my little brother is 9 and has no suit to go to school. Anything you have in shoes size 5, 1, 13, and 1½. And we need a few quilts. We would be glad and thankful for anything.

MARION.

A Long List

Editor Helping Hand:

Enclosed is a list of articles I will be glad to give to some needy families. I will send them parcel post.

MRS. W. P. G.

The list was too long to publish, but we thank you for it just the same. For the man's and woman's clothing we have sent you the address of Mrs. J. M.; for the children's clothing, the address of Mrs. M. E.; for the shoes size 3, of Mrs. R. E. D., size 4, Mrs. J. M., and size 5, M. M. M.

A Needy Family

Editor Helping Hand:

I wonder if you can find help for me. My husband has deserted me, he has been gone since January. I have seven children and expect another in May. My husband drank so hard that it was unhappy all the time he was here. I need bedding very badly as I have to use old coats on my beds. My children need clothing. They are girls 15, 14, 13, 4

DR. FRANK CRANE ON FORTUNE TELLERS AND PALMISTS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

GARRETT P. SERVISS, the distinguished astronomer and writer on scientific topics, recently pointed out the "danger of getting involved in the nets of superstition, the greatest enemy of the mind's comfort."

People who go to astrologers, palmists, fortune tellers, clairvoyants and the like are doing to their minds what drunkards and dope fiends are doing to their bodies. Every once in awhile a bunko artist stumbles upon the truth. His poor dupes then forget the ninety-nine times that he has missed it. They shake their heads and mutter to one another, "Now how do you account for that? There must be something in it. Isn't it wonderful!"

It is not wonderful, for it is not extraordinary and unusual. On the contrary it is the commonest thing in the world and it has been taking place for many thousands of years. That is, the spook doctors and witches and fortune tellers were at it anywhere from five to ten thousand years before the human race began to use religion for the purpose of behaving themselves or improving their moral character.

The great trouble in fooling with, entertaining or giving any attention to, predictions, premonitions, prophecies and all such stuff is that it rots the mind.

The very first thing in education is to learn the connection between cause and effect, to learn that there are natural laws, that there are no exceptions and that there is no such thing as chance.

Unless the universe we live in is governed strictly by natural laws then there is no such thing in the mind as reason. If the universe is not rational then we all had as well be crazy.

"People are often dismayed and disheartened," says Mr. Serviss, "by idle predictions of this kind, made under the cover of amusement, but really half credited by everybody concerned. They have not enough soundly rooted confidence in the principle of rationality to throw off the depression of spirit, and the haunting, superstitious fear, which the pretended prophecy has unfortunately produced."

It is not in the order of the universe that we should know the future. Knowing the future does not make for sanity, for efficiency nor happiness. As Pope expressed it:

"Heaven hides from all the Book of Fate

The only sensible attitude for any human being is one of courage and optimism. We will have our ups and downs, each one of us. There is little doubt that sickness, disappointment, loss or calamity of some kind, will meet us sometime in the future. And it is dead certain that each of us will have to die.

What of it? It is the common lot. We can either face it like good soldiers or we can shrink and whine like condemned criminals. In other words we can either be optimists or pessimists.

Nature has been a good many million years developing the human brain and human reason. This is the latest and best of the products of evolution, for Heaven's sake let us use it and not go back ten thousand years to the spook stuff.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON MARS AND SCHOOLBOYS

By Garrett P. Serviss

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest

A SCHOOLBOY in West New York, N. J., writes me that they are going to have a class debate in the high school on the possibility of learning more about the planet Mars "by a personal visit and by communication, if there are intelligent human beings on it." As he is to maintain the affirmative, he would like to get hold of some good arguments on that side. The subject was no doubt suggested by the approaching opposition of Mars which next Summer will bring that wonderful planet nearer the earth than it has been in many years—in fact, within less than 35,000,00 miles.

It is really a great sight when two big world-ships like the earth and Mars come bobbing and plunging so near one another in the ocean of space. The red gleam of Mars in the midnight sky next August will startle the eye like a fire-balloon, and few people who see it will fail to wonder whether there is anybody out there, knowing more than we do and trying to communicate with us on the earth—too stupid to understand them!

My schoolboy friend must make a strong appeal to the imagination of his hearers and judges in the debate, though that is not to say that there are no facts and plausible reasons which he can draw upon.

As to a "personal visit" he can at least prove the possibility of getting away from the earth by the aid of some such device as Jules Verne's giant hollow projectile or Professor Goddard's repeating rocket. If you can travel seven miles a second you can escape from the control of terrestrial gravity, whether you reach Mars or get lost in space.

Concerning "communication," there is a more plausible case. Communication already exists, since Mars sends light to the earth and the earth to Mars. Light signaling between distant points on the earth is an age-old practice. We know, too, that light passes uninterrupted through open space, so that no fundamental obstacle exists to prevent signalling to Mars. It would only be necessary to make the signal bright enough to be perceived 35,000,000 miles away. By flashes, suitably timed, a sense of intelligent purpose controlling the signals could be conveyed, even to those who, knowing nothing of our languages, could not "read" the signals. Let both sides once become aware that signals of some kind were being sent and a way would be found to get a meaning out of them.

Unfortunately the position of the earth when Mars is in opposition is such that the Martians cannot see it. From our side, then, the light signals would have to be sent some time before or after the opposition, when our planet would be visible in the evening or morning sky of Mars. But, just at the time of opposition would be the very best moment for the Martians to flash their signals to us, because then Mars is not only nearest, but is visible in the middle of the darkest part of the night. Sending their signals then, they could wait until there is anybody out there, knowing more than we do and trying to communicate with us on the earth—too stupid to understand them!

Sending their signals then, they could wait until there is anybody out there, knowing more than we do and trying to communicate with us on the earth—too stupid to understand them!

With powerful telescopes we can see Mars, in opposition, as if it were only, say, 30,000 miles away. Then a light bright enough to be seen 100 miles away on the earth would be visible from Mars if it were made 90,000 times brighter. But they could signal, also, by making permanent and conspicuous geometrical markings on their planet. A perfect circle on Mars, 150 miles in diameter viewed when Mars is 35,000,000 miles away, with a telescope magnifying about 1200 diameters, would appear about one-quarter the size of the full moon as seen with the naked eye.

Radio communication would seem to be much easier than either of the plans just mentioned. But we don't know for certain, whether the radio waves can pass outside the earth's atmosphere—although personally I think they can. And then we have the problem of creating waves of sufficient energy to spread across millions of miles of space and yet retain the strength needed for signals.
